• Videotaping interactions with children (30-45 minutes per week)
  Students will be loaned a video camera to use at the practicum site. This camera is to be used to videotape interactions with at least one child for approximately 30 minutes per week. You will be required to obtain consent to videotape from your site director and the parents of children you are videotaping. The videotaping process is guided by a faculty supervisor.

• Group reflective supervision (2 hours per week)
  You will meet with a group of 8 or fewer students and an EC-SEBRIS reflective practice supervisor every week for two hours. The reflective supervisor is the CFD 697 instructor. You will review your videotaped interactions with other students and the faculty supervisor during group and individual supervision.

• Individual reflective supervision (1 hour every other week)
  You will meet individually with your reflective supervisor for one hour every other week. This supervision will be scheduled at a mutually convenient time and location.

• On-site coaching visits (4 visits per year)
  You will be visited at your practicum site by an EC-SEBRIS on-site coach four times per year. This on-site coach will provide you with direct feedback and guidance regarding your professional skills development and interactions with children, staff, and parents.

• Evaluation visits (2 visits per year)
  In addition to on-site coaching visits, you will be visited twice per year by an evaluation manager, who will assess your skills and collect pre- and post-program outcomes evaluation.

YOU CAN BENEFIT FROM OUR EXPECTATIONS!

Students enrolling in the second year of the MSW program have the option to concurrently enroll in the EC-SEBRIS Graduate Certificate Program. This track provides students with an opportunity to specialize in early childhood mental health while still meeting the requirements for the MSW degree. Because this collaboration has different programmatic requirements for each department, students who are interested in this track need to be aware of the expectations for both departments. These expectations exceed the requirements of a student who only enrolls in the MSW program; however, the student will benefit from the additional knowledge, supervision, and certification provided by the EC-SEBRIS Certificate. In addition, the student will graduate with all of the requirements necessary for endorsement by the California Center for Infant-Family and Early Childhood Mental Health. The expectations are described below.

1. Course Substitutions

The EC-SEBRIS Certificate is obtained in one academic year through completion of 20 units of coursework. Only 15 of these 20 units can be applied to your MSW requirements. The following courses substitute for the MSW course requirements:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Social Work Courses</th>
<th>Equivalent EC-SEBRIS Track Courses</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>SW 750 (4 units)</td>
<td>CFD 697 (4 units)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SW 798 (1 unit) – Student will enroll in SW 798, but attend the seminar for SW 750</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SW 720 (3 units)</td>
<td>CFD 670 (3 units)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SW Electives (6 units)</td>
<td>SPED 676 (3 units)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CSP 623</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CFD 670</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

This track will require the student to enroll in the following courses each semester:

FALL COURSES:
- SW 798: Special Study*
- SW 744: Advanced Clinical Interview Models
- SW 791: Evaluation of Social Work Practice
- CFD 697: Advanced Field Experiences
- CSP 623: Ecobehavioral Assessment
- CFD 670: Advanced Regulation Plans

SPRING COURSES:
- SW 798: Special Study*
- SW 739: Seminar in Family Dynamics
- SW 702: Seminar in Social Welfare Policies
- CFD 697: Advanced Field Experiences
- CFD 671: Positive Behavioral Support
- SPED 676: Applied Behavior Analysis

* You will be enrolled in SW 798, but attend the seminar for SW 750. You will not attend the class meetings for SW 798.

2. Field Placement Expectations

The field placement expectations for students participating in this collaboration are more extensive than the expectations for a student only completing the MSW degree. The EC-SEBRIS program’s field experience requirements are multi-faceted and will provide you with a wrap-around approach to your practicum. Field Instructors will attempt to have MSW interns work with families, and in some cases parents, of the 0-5 population, but it is not guaranteed.

All MSW students are required to participate in a 20 hour per week internship; the additional EC-SEBRIS program supervision requirements fall within the 20 hours. The field experience component of the EC-SEBRIS program is completed through the course CFD 697, which you must enroll in each semester. This course requires students to complete 500 hours of field experience in the academic year, or approximately 250 hours per semester. This equates to 20 hours per week of work or volunteering at a site in which you can interact directly with children ages 0-5 years old.

Students in this joint program will have the opportunity for additional supervision during their practicum. Please see next page for components of extra supervision for CFD 697.
