DESCRIPTION
The University of California San Diego Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS), a unit within the Cluster of Student Health and Wellbeing in UC San Diego Health and rooted in Student Affairs and Academic Affairs. CAPS is the leading center on campus that delivers campus-based mental health services to 33,000 registered UCSD undergraduate, graduate, and professional school students. CAPS multicultural, multidisciplinary, and student-centered staff strives to deliver culturally proficient counseling services, outreach programming, consultation, research, and training opportunities.

CAPS services support the academic mission of the University aimed at student success and retention and works toward the maintenance of an inclusive and healthy living and learning environment for individuals to flourish as they pursue their academic and career goals. CAPS is accredited by the International Association of Counseling Services and the Post-doctoral Program is APPIC affiliated. CAPS is fully committed to self-examination, peer review, and quality control through the utilization of data, outcome, and client experience measurements.

Under the general supervision of the CAPS Director or designee, the Clinical Social Worker will support students to enhance their educational experience and reduce the impact of mental conditions and personal distress on their wellbeing through appropriate assessment, diagnosis, treatment planning and referrals to campus and community resources. Will develop interventions, treatment plans, monitor their progress, and assure effective coordination of care between providers at CAPS, other campus resources, and mental health providers in the surrounding community.

The services provided will include triage, crisis intervention and brief psychotherapy. Treatment plans may result in off-campus referrals to intensive outpatient and inpatient programs and specialized and/or long term psychotherapy. When appropriate, the incumbent will also work with University Administrators, Student Affairs and Academic Departments for effective collaboration and timely coordination of care, including medical leave of absence and readmission.
