Assistant Professor Position: Expertise is sought in Direct Social Work Practice, with a particular emphasis in trauma and trauma-specific treatments. A suitable candidate will have the ability to teach Direct Practice courses and will have demonstrated research expertise regarding trauma, trauma informed care, and trauma treatments. Teaching experience at the undergraduate and graduate levels is desired. A candidate must show promise in obtaining extramural funds. An MSW and a doctorate in social work or a related field is required, along with two years post-MSW direct practice experience. A commitment to working in a multi-cultural environment with students from diverse backgrounds is desired. The SDSU School of Social Work is located near the Mexican border and in a large metropolitan area with a wide range of diverse communities which include newly arrived immigrants and refugees from many countries and centuries-old Native American tribes and bands. A candidate must have the ability to develop working relationships with treatment providers in order to conduct research which contributes to the scholarly literature on trauma practice.

SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university and Hispanic-Serving Institute with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all. SDSU is seeking applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Application review will begin October 2017, with a goal of completing the search by December.
