Feasibility and Pilot Testing of SBI to Reduce Alcohol Misuse among Active Duty Members in a Military ER Setting. Role: Principal Investigator. Direct Costs: $740,308

The purpose of this grant is to test the feasibility, adaption, as well as the effectiveness of a Screening and Brief Intervention Referral to Treatment (SBIRT) intervention for alcohol misuse in a military ER setting. There are two phases of this research. Phase 1 will include formative research designed to determine the feasibility, acceptability and adaptation of the SBIRT approach in a military ER setting. The second phase will test the effectiveness of this approach in a military ER setting utilizing a randomized controlled trial research design.

National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA) "Social Media Analytic Research Testbed for Geo-Targeted Undergraduate Individuals and Drinking Epidemiology (SMART-GUIDE)." Role: Principal Investigator. Direct Costs: $2,475,000.

The research goal of this project is to test the validity of using social networking sites (SNSs) to monitor and analyze alcohol use, intoxication, and alcohol-related problems among college students within a city or a geo-targeted university. Utilizing methods we've developed successfully to other content areas (flu outbreaks and elections), we will employ a prototype system called the Social Media Analytic Research Testbed for Geo-targeted Undergraduate Individuals and Drinking Epidemiology (SMART-GUIDE) to analyze alcohol-related content in near real time from SNS platforms in late adolescent and college student populations. The SMART-GUIDE system is being developed as a tool that can fundamentally change and transform how colleges and universities plan, select, and implement alcohol prevention efforts.

Completed

The Ohio State University

Evaluation of the Ohio State University Higher Education Center for Alcohol

Sub-contract from The Ohio State University. Role: Principal Investigator. Direct Costs: $25,000

In July 2014, the Conrad N. Hilton Foundation awarded The Ohio State University a $2 million grant to establish The Ohio State University Higher Education Center for Alcohol and Drug Misuse and Prevention and Recovery (HECAOD). The purpose of the center is to provide assistance to college and community leaders in how to best implement and evaluate policies designed to reduce alcohol and other drug problems experienced by college students. The primary functions of the center are to provide education and training, research and evaluation, technical assistance, and technology development. This sub-contract involves conducting a program evaluation of the HECAOD program which includes an evaluation of SBIRT training and services.

San Diego State University Undergraduate Research Mini-Grant Program

Person-Environment Interactions and Alcohol Consumption: The Role of Alcohol Outlet Density. Role: Principal Investigator. Direct Costs: $1,000

The use and abuse of alcohol by adolescents and young adults in the U.S. remains one of the most important public health problems of the 21st century. The identification of contextual or environmental factors that moderate the direct effects of individual level variables on alcohol use can help with the development of targeted interventions for groups of individuals who may be at greatest risk for alcohol-related problems, abuse, dependence, etc. The studies included in this project will test whether environmental factors such as alcohol outlet density interact with individual factors such as gender, race/ethnicity, personality, religiosity, and genetics to influence alcohol use behaviors (frequency of drinking, quantity of drinking, heavy episodic drinking (HED), number of days drunk) in ways that are more complex than what studies testing the direct effects of these individual and environmental factors have found. These studies utilize data from the National Longitudinal Study of Adolescent Health (Add Health).

San Diego State University, University Grants Program

"The Moderating Effect of the Environment on Predictors of Alcohol Use." Role: Principal Investigator. Direct Costs: $9,241.

The purpose of this project is to examine the moderating effects over time of the macro environment on the genetic contributions to alcohol and tobacco use behaviors using 3 waves of data from the Add Health survey. Given the important social problems associated with these behaviors, the research described in this proposal will provide additional insight into how to better target interventions to those in the population who are most at risk of developing substance use disorders.

National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA) (P.I.: James E Lange, Ph.D.)
“Disclosing alcohol contents of drinks: Experimental test on natural consumption.” Role: Co-Investigator. Direct Costs: $666,630.

The purpose of this project is to develop and test brief communications of nutrition facts and alcohol contents that (a) individuals can effectively use to monitor their consumption, (b) can motivate them to drink moderately, and (c) could be required within bar and restaurant menus by future policies.

National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA) (P.I.: James E. Lange, Ph.D.)
“Investigating collegiate natural drinking groups.” Role: Co-Investigator. Direct Costs: $275,000.

The studies in this proposal will investigate collegiate drinking-group construction, motivations, and dynamics. A better understanding of these phenomena will provide insights into the general phenomenon of college students’ alcohol abuse and will help guide future intervention efforts.

National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA) (P.I.: Audrey Shillington, Ph.D.)
“Adolescent AOD use self-reports: Testing report stability over 14 years.” Role: Co-Investigator. Direct Costs: $275,000.

Using 14 years of data from the National Longitudinal Survey of Youth (NLSY), the purpose of this project is to examine report consistency for adolescent alcohol and other drug (AOD) use across seven waves of data. In this proposal, we outline several studies that directly test the predictions of two theories that have been used to explain the stability of substance use self-reports. This research will attempt to identify patterns and predictors of changes in substance use recall and ages of onset for multiple substances across the waves of available data from the NLSY.

Tobacco-Related Disease Research Program (TRDRP) 15IT-0027. “Social Smoking within College Drinking Environments.” Role: Principal Investigator. 7/06 - 6/08. Direct Costs: $100,000.

The purpose of this grant is to examine the relationship between smoking and alcohol consumption among non-daily smokers. A theoretical model that includes social, personal and environmental factors believed to be instrumental in facilitating social smoking in drinking contexts for college students is proposed.

National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA) U01 AA014738-01 (P.I., James E. Lange, Ph.D.). "Alcohol Research Collaborative: Alternative Programs." Role: Research Scientist. 9/20/03 - 8/20/08. Direct Costs: $1,200,000.

This is a cooperative agreement with NIAAA to facilitate the study of novel college-based alcohol prevention efforts. Of particular focus is how behavioral alternative programs fit within a comprehensive approach to campus interventions.

Flight Attendants Medical Research Institute (FAMRI) 52364 (P.I., Nada Kassem, Dr.Ph). "Hookah use and secondhand smoke." Role: Co-Investigator. 7/06 – 6/09. Direct Costs: $300,000.

The purpose of this grant is to investigate the prevalence and determinants of hookah tobacco use and secondhand hookah tobacco smoke exposure among college students frequenting hookah lounges, including the degree to which the lounges may be violating California indoor smoking laws.

County of San Diego, HHSA, Contract #517876 (P.I., John D. Clapp, PhD). "California Screening, Brief Intervention, Referral, and Treatment (CASBIRT)." Role: Evaluation Consultant. 2/07 – 8/08. Direct Costs: $5,923,438

This is a service contract to provide routine screening, brief intervention, referral and treatment for patients admitted to emergency departments and trauma departments as well as patients receiving primary care medical services in locations throughout San Diego County.

American Legacy Foundation (P.I., David M. Burns, M.D.). "American Legacy Foundation Monographs." Role: Behavioral Scientist. 1/02-3/03.

This project aimed to advance public policy regarding tobacco control, focusing on three major activities: the effectiveness of tobacco control approaches to smoking cessation in the general population, with a focus on under-served groups; estimating the number of lives saved through tobacco control interventions; and the development of working groups on critical policy issues.

Tobacco-Related Disease Research Program (TRDRP) 10RT-0132 (P.I., David M. Burns, M.D.). "The role of the media in smoking initiation and cessation." Role: Research Scientist. 7/02-6/05.

This project examined the targeting of African-Americans and adolescents by the tobacco industry through cigarette advertising.

Tobacco-Related Disease Research Program (TRDRP) 11RT-0245 (P.I., David M. Burns, M.D.).

*“The effect of tobacco-related policy change on smoking behavior.” Role: Research Scientist.
7/01-6/04*

This project examined the relationship between changes in tobacco-related public policy and smoking cessation behavior for African-Americans, Hispanics, Asian-Americans, smokers with less education, smokers with mental distress and smokers who use alcohol excessively.

2016 Outstanding Faculty Award, San Diego State University, College of Health and Human Services, School of Social Work.

CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT AND TEACHING INNOVATIONS

SW391: Created a data collection and analysis project that requires students to develop a research question and hypothesis testing some aspect of human behavior. Students also created a data collection form, collect data from participants, analyze the data, interpret the results, and write a formal research report.

SW 430: Developed a writing assignment in which students were asked students to describe a portrayal of drug use in popular culture (i.e., movies, music, T.V., books, etc.) and to assess whether research supports (or refutes) a connection between media portrayals of drug use and the use of alcohol, tobacco or other drugs among children, adolescents or young adults. Students were also required to discuss whether they believe the government (Federal, State or Local) should enact stricter policies limiting exposure to media portrayals of drug to young people in this country. This assignment required students to assess the research as well as alcohol and drug policy literature. Developed a course blog for students to share information as well as personal observations/opinions related to alcohol and other drug use.

SW 610: Developed two innovative data analysis projects/paper assignments to demonstrate how to analyze, interpret, and write about survey data and data from a randomized controlled trial. These assignments were integrated successfully into my courses during the fall and spring semesters in the 2008-2009 academic year.

SW 619: Created a major writing assignment requiring students to apply organizational behavior theory to an experience working or volunteering for a human service agency or organization. This assignment gives students the ability to demonstrate their knowledge of theory by allowing them to describe a pertinent experience rather than merely having them describe theories in a research paper. This assignment was successfully integrated into my courses during the fall 2009 and 2010 semesters.

SW 620a: Designed a major writing assignment in which students are asked to synthesize and integrate human development theory into a description of a period of their life or the life of a close relative or friend. This assignment also promotes the application of knowledge as opposed to simply describing or analyzing a theory.

SW881: Developed a secondary analysis assignment in which students are asked to develop a research question focused on substance use and subsequent set of multivariate statistical analyses. Students then write up a manuscript suitable for publication. This assignment is designed so that students can get started on an independent research topic with the hope of publishing the results of the analyses.
