Welcome to the graduate program in Social Work at San Diego State University. We hope the years you spend with us will be rewarding. To help make sure that they are as trouble free as possible, we are providing you with this Graduate Student Handbook. It may be downloaded from the School of Social Work website at: http://socialwork.sdsu.edu/student-resources/references/msw-handbook/

I. MSW PROGRAM MISSION, GOALS, AND OBJECTIVES

The Mission of the Master of Social Work (MSW) Program is to prepare graduates competent to work in public and private sector health and human service agencies. Using both generalist and advanced specialist frameworks, graduates work both with and on behalf of diverse and vulnerable populations in the Southern California border region and beyond. Graduates enhance human and community well-being and eliminate social disparities. Grounded in the ethics of the social work profession, graduates apply evidence-based approaches in their work with individuals, families, groups, communities, and the agencies that serve them.

The Master of Social Work Program subscribes to the stated philosophy and the overall mission of the School of Social Work by offering a coherent and integrated curriculum that emphasizes professional values, ethics, knowledge, and skills that enable graduates to work in public and nonprofit social service agencies with diverse and vulnerable populations, particularly in the Southern California border region. The Mission of the MSW Program is to prepare graduates for advanced evidence based social work practice in an area of concentration (Direct Practice or Administration/Community Development Practice).

MSW Program Goals:

The goals of the MSW Program are to implement the mission by preparing advanced practitioners in the specialized areas of Direct Practice or Administration/Community Development who:

1. are well-grounded in the values and ethics of the profession;
2. have multiple competencies that can be used in a wide variety of settings, with systems of various sizes and with diverse and vulnerable populations;
3. are able to critically examine issues of social, economic and environmental justice and are committed to the realization of human rights;
4. utilize research evidence in practice decision making;
5. are committed to lifelong professional development; and
6. are prepared to be leaders in the profession.
II. COMMUNICATIONS AND ADVISING

Website: socialwork.sdsu.edu or www.sdsu.edu (Social Work in Department Directory)

Graduate Advisor

Office: Hepner Hall (HH) 209 / Telephone: 619.594.3548 / Email: eko@mail.sdsu.edu

Office Hours: Wednesday, 10:40-12:00 pm, Thursday 2:30pm-3:30 pm

The Graduate Advisor, Dr. Eunjeong Ko, is your link to the University and the School of Social Work. Dr. Ko will provide you with academic direction and support, as well as information and counsel on all aspects of program and course requirements and administrative procedures. Dr. Ko provides advising for students in the MSW Programs. Dr. David Engstrom is the Graduate Advisor for students in the MSW/JD Program. He can be contacted at Engstrom@sdsu.edu. His office is HH 205, telephone, 619-594-5966. Dr. Lianne Urada is the Graduate Advisor for MSW/MPH students. Administration/Community Development students are also advised to contact Dr. Urada if you have questions related to that concentration. Dr. Urada’s contact information is: Office: HH 203C, telephone: 619.594.6664 and email: lurada@sdsu.edu.

Role of Graduate Advisor:

- Provide information about requirements and policies of the Division of Graduate Affairs.
- Advise students on developing a Program of Study in the MSW program, including the sequence of appropriate coursework and available resources to ensure academic success.
- Meet with transfer students to ensure transfer of credits from other institutions (see Page 12 of this Handbook).
- Provide feedback on the progress of students toward completion of the MSW degree. The Graduate Advisor: (a) monitors the academic progress of all students in the MSW Program; (b) contacts students if their GPA falls below the expected level of 3.0 and/or if they are placed on academic probation; and (c) counsels these students on ways that may improve their academic performance to regain good academic standing.
- Complete necessary paperwork when students need to change their status (e.g., from conditional to classified, or from fulltime to 3-year or 4-year programs).
- Complete and send to Graduate Division the Program of Study and other necessary paperwork related to students’ progress through the MSW Program and toward Graduation.
- Provide students information related to taking a Leave of Absence (see Page 13 of this Handbook).
- Refer students to the office of Student Ability Success Center if it appears that assessing the need for special accommodations might be helpful (see Pages 18 of this Handbook).
■ Refer students to resources on campus that may be helpful to their progress through the MSW program (e.g., tutoring, Student Health Services, SDSU Counseling and Psychological Services, etc.).

■ Refer students who are interested in completing a thesis to faculty members whose research expertise may match the students’ interests and research questions.

■ Inform students (generally through the Graduate Announcements) about opportunities for scholarships and fellowships. Details about scholarships/fellowships may be obtained by contacting the Graduate Advisor, Dr. Eunjeong Ko, or the Chair of the Student Affairs Committee, Dr. Lucinda Rasmussen.

■ Act as a resource to students and faculty when problems or conflict arise in classroom situations, and assist in resolving the situation.

■ Provide students information about the policies governing the grievance/appeals process to Student Affairs Committee and discuss whether the Committee can respond to a concern (see Pages 30-32). The Director of the School of Social Work responds to appeals of grades (see Page 33).

■ Receive Student Situation Reports from faculty related to incidents of unprofessional behavior by students (i.e., cheating, plagiarism, violation of NASW Code of Ethics), and refer the student to the Student Affairs Committee if such incidents meet the criteria stated in the Graduate Student Handbook 2018-2019 (see Pages 66-68).

■ Receive student feedback (at Town Meetings and throughout the year via email) related to their opinions about the curriculum and other aspects of the MSW program. Communicate the feedback to the School of Social Work Curriculum Committee and to the faculty (see Pages 8 and 10).

■ Meet with students who have failed the Qualifying Exam and provide a summary of the areas in the exam that the student performed poorly. The students are not allowed to read the actual exam during this review.

■ Meet with students who failed the Comprehensive Exam and refer them to a faculty mentor. The faculty mentor will be a member of the Direct Practice or Macro Practice Faculty and will review with them the topic areas they missed on the exam.

■ Email Graduate Announcements to inform students of important events related to their matriculation at the School of Social Work. A condensed version of the Graduate Announcements will also be posted on the School of Social Work Home Room Blackboard website: Communications Central.

Please note that the Graduate Advisor provides academic advising once you have been admitted to the MSW program and have begun your first semester of coursework. Questions related to Admissions, or questions by newly accepted students prior to the beginning of their first semester of coursework should be directed to the Admissions Director, Cheryl James, LCSW at cjames@sdsu.edu.
Documentation: Please Keep A File:

It is extremely important that all students keep their own running file of all official actions regarding their status, all copies of documents sent to them by the School of Social Work or by University Division of Graduate Affairs, or by Admissions and Records, all grade reports, all important memos from the School regarding requirements, curriculum, field due dates, etc. Please keep all Syllabi!! Students may need copies of their course syllabi or Field Intern Evaluations for verification for license requirements 5 or 10 years from now.

Graduate Bulletin 2018-2019

Students are responsible for all information contained in the current Graduate Bulletin http://arweb.sdsu.edu/es/catalog/bulletin/. This document, the Graduate Student Handbook 2018-2019 is meant to supplement the Graduate Bulletin 2018-2019 and does not replace it. As a graduate student in the School of Social Work, you are responsible to read and be familiar with the contents of both documents.

Bulletin Boards

Important information is often posted on the School of Social Work bulletin boards in the glass cases outside the Social Work Office (HH 119). This includes General information, announcements of upcoming events, course changes, etc. and Field Education announcements. Other bulletin boards are allocated to the Graduate Social Work Association, Social Work Alumni Association, and student organizations.

Notices may not be posted on School bulletin boards without prior approval of the administration of the School of Social Work. If you have questions related to posting notices on School of Social Work bulletin boards, please contact the Graduate Advisor, Dr. Ko.

Communications Central

Communication within the School of Social Work is primarily by email. Notices to students from the Graduate Advisor (Dr. Ko) related to their academic progress (e.g., probation status, problems with fulfilling course requirements, etc.) will be sent via email. Students should inform the School of Social Work of any changes in their address, email, and/or phone number. Changes may be reported to the Office Staff in the School of Social Work Office (HH 119).

All graduate students will have access to a Blackboard website entitled “School of Social Work – Communications Central.” They can post announcements or comments on the website’s Discussion Board. The Graduate Advisor, Dr. Eunjeong Ko, is the designated instructor for the Blackboard School of Social Work Communications Central website. Students may communicate with other students through email using this site. It is also possible for student organizations to set up their own Discussion Board. If you have questions about Communications Central, please contact the current Graduate Advisor, Dr. Ko.

The School of Social Work has established a blog on the School's website. The School of Social Work welcomes submission from students. If you wish to contribute an article for the blog, please contact Dr. Dahlia Fuentes (dahlia.fuentes@sdsu.edu) or Dr. David Engstrom (engstrom@sdsu.edu). For our other social media (Twitter, Facebook and Instagram), please contact Bethany Young the graduate assistant for the Director of the School, who is in charge of assembling social media for the School. Her email is byoung9031@sdsu.edu. Links to all of these can be found on the front of the School's webpage: https://socialwork.sdsu.edu.

Town Meetings

The School of Social Work holds "forums" or “Town Meetings” each semester for student input on the curriculum, policies and procedures of the School. Dr. Ko will be coordinating these meetings.

The Fall Town Meeting (a) reviews various aspects of the second year (SW 700 level) course of study (i.e., selection of concentration [Advanced Direct Practice and Administration/Community Development Practice]); (b) outlines electives according to student areas of interest; (c) provides information about the school social work and PPS certification; (d) discusses the process of doing a thesis versus taking the Comprehensive Exam, etc.; and (e) provides information about the second-year (SW 700 level) field placement process.

There are two Town Meetings during the Spring Semester (The meeting for SW 600 level students focuses on policies and procedures related to the Qualifying Exam; while the one for SW 700 level students discusses policies and procedures of the Comprehensive Exam, reviews content areas included in the Exam, and provides suggestions for study and preparation. Please note that this information might be provided by the instructors in the classroom instead. At both Town Meetings, student feedback about the MSW program is requested. Notice of the Town Meetings will be emailed to students as part of the Graduate Announcements, as well as posted as an announcement on the Communications Central Blackboard website.

Mentoring by Faculty

Advising related to specific course content or assignments should be sought from the course instructor. The instructor may assist you in overcoming difficulties you may have with understanding particular subject matter, designing and conducting research, or conceptualizing and developing frameworks for your future practice in social work.

Students are encouraged to visit their instructors during their office hours and to form mentoring relationships with faculty who have teaching expertise or research expertise that are similar to their own interests. Such relationships may be helpful to students in developing professional skills (e.g., writing reports, papers or grant proposals; making professional presentations in group projects or at workshops or conferences; establishing professional networks; developing interviewing skills, etc.).

Students who are interested in research may find mentoring by faculty members to be helpful in staying aware of cutting-edge ideas in their field of interest, gaining training about research methodology, and learning about research ethics.

Students who elect to complete a thesis or publishable article option should seek mentoring from their thesis chair or committee members. The thesis chair will assist students in developing a thesis/article topic and outlining a realistic time frame for completing the thesis (see Pages 25-26 of this Handbook). As an alternative to a thesis, a student may choose to work with a faculty member in completing a small research project and writing an article to be submitted to a peer reviewed publication (see Page 27-28 of this Handbook). Opportunities related to thesis research or the development of a publishable paper may include participating in activities to disseminate the research to professional colleagues (e.g., presenting at a professional conference or at the annual Student Research Symposium sponsored by the Division of Research Affairs).

First Year Faculty Mentor

In the first year of your matriculation, Dr. Ko will serve as the First Year Faculty Mentor. The role of the First Year Faculty Mentor is to be a resource related to social work career counseling and questions that students may have about the social work profession and their future career plans. This might include questions about available jobs in the community, job interviewing skills, preparing applications for scholarships or fellowships, etc. Students who have questions about the Administration concentration and jobs that are available post-graduation are advised to contact Dr. David Engstrom, engstrom@sdsu.edu, Chair of the Curriculum Committee Administration/Community Development Task Group.

The First Year Faculty Mentor with international expertise may be assigned to international students. He or she can assist the international students with concerns related to their international status and/or refer them to appropriate resources (e.g., courses on English as a Second Language, tutoring, financial resources, housing, etc.).

The First Year Faculty Mentor is available only for the SW 600 level foundation courses. Once the student has passed the Qualifying Exam and been advanced to candidacy, the First Year Faculty Mentor will no longer have a role. The Second Year Faculty mentor will be the field faculty assigned to the student.

Please note that the assigned Field Faculty Instructor is always a resource and provides mentorship in relation to students' Field assignment.

Questions related to day-to-day concerns that students might have as they go through the MSW Program (e.g., scheduling of coursework, progress in their classes, academic performance, concerns about administrative or faculty decisions, grievance process) should not be directed to the First Year Faculty Mentor or Field Faculty Instructor, but to the Graduate Advisor.

Faculty Office Hours and Contact Information

Faculty Office Hours are posted in the School of Social Work Main Office, HH 119. For the Faculty Directory, please refer to the SDSU School of Social Work website – http://socialwork.sdsu.edu. If you are making a special trip to campus to see a professor, you may want to call ahead to ensure that the professor is available.
Office Hours for Director of the School of Social Work

Dr. Min has an open door policy; students may stop by his office or schedule an appointment by contacting Jullian Lutau, Administrative Support Coordinator, at 619.594.5724.

Important announcements throughout the year will be sent through the Blackboard Communications website. Stay in touch with the School of Social Work by liking us on Facebook: San Diego State University School of Social Work, check the Facebook page to learn about important activities, including those sponsored by Dr. Min. Also, please follow the School of Social Work on Twitter @SDSUSocialWork. Students are encouraged to submit written work and/or comment on our blog: InSitu, the School of Social Work. You can submit 500-750 words on any topic pertaining to social work.

Contact Information: Updating Student Addresses, Phone, and Email

All students are required to secure and maintain an e-mail account. Throughout the semester, the Graduate Advisor, Dr. Ko, distributes general advising information and program announcements to all students with a known e-mail account. Information related to Field Education may be found on the Field Education link at http://socialwork.sdsu.edu/field/.

Students are expected to keep their contact information current with the Admissions and Records Office of the University and the administration of the School of Social Work. They may update their contact information through WebPortal for the University, but need to notify the School of Social Work directly about changes to their address, telephone number, or email. These changes can be made in person at the Social Work Office (HH 119) or emailed to Emily Sapp at esapp@sdsu.edu. Please note that email rather than the telephone is the primary means that Faculty and administration of the School of Social Work communicate with students outside of the classroom or office hours. It is therefore imperative that you make sure that WebPortal and the School of Social Work have your current email address.

Job Notices

Job announcements are posted on the School of Social Work web site on our job board at: http://socialwork.sdsu.edu/career/job-board-for-students-and-grads/. Job announcements are also listed in the Graduate Announcements and part-time job announcements requesting graduate students are emailed to MSW students in the School of Social Work. Please also consult with SDSU Career Services at: http://career.sdsu.edu/student_affairs/career/studentservices.aspx. They can assist you with your job search and resume. Each Spring semester the School of Social Work co-sponsors an Agency Fair that provides students information about practicum agencies and career opportunities in social work.
III. UNIVERSITY AND SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK (SSW) POLICIES

Registration

Registration is done through SDSU WebPortal each semester. You will use your SDSU RED ID number to register. Please refer to the Graduate Bulletin or review the Class Schedule on the SDSU website, https://sunspot.sdsu.edu/schedule/ each semester. The most up-to-date schedule is reflected on the SDSU website. On occasion, students have asked how the time for registration is assigned. In general, registration times follow the policy adopted by the University Senate. Beyond the two days assigned to graduate students, the more specific time is assigned based on the number of units earned and random assignment. Students with more units than others will have an earlier registration time. When students have the same number of units, the registration time is assigned through random assignment.

 SDSU implements a web-based online wait list system, and there is no add code that faculty will distribute to individual students. Students who are on wait list need to actively monitor their status on the wait lists inside the SDSU WebPortal. For further information, please see Wait List Tutorial: http://arweb.sdsu.edu/es/waitlist/students/tutorial.pdf.

Admissions: Waiver/Proficiency Examinations

Students admitted to the Graduate social work program with a 3.0 GPA may be eligible to take a waiver examination for certain courses (SW 601, 619, and 690). If a course is waived, it must be replaced by another course in consultation with the Graduate Advisor.

In order to be eligible to take a Waiver Examination, the following conditions must be met:

- The student must hold a Baccalaureate degree in Social Work from an accredited social work program or a major from a closely related field;

- The student must have achieved a grade of B or better in a course similar to the course in which the Waiver Examination is to be taken (i.e., SW 601 - Social Policy, SW 619 - Human Behavior in the Social Environment, and SW 690 – Social Work Research).

- Students who had majors from closely related fields may take the Waiver Examinations if they have had comparable courses with a grade of B and above. In this case, they need to provide documentation (e.g., syllabus, course outline, etc.) to demonstrate the comparability of the courses and their knowledge and proficiency with the material.

Who Administers the Waiver Examinations?

Applications to take the Waiver Examinations must be submitted to the MSW Admissions Director, Cheryl James, LCSW who administers the exams. Please contact her at 619.594.5710 or at cjames@sdsu.edu for the date, time and place of the exams. In the meantime, you should go ahead and register for the courses you are hoping to waive, according to the Registration instructions you have received.

Grading of Waiver Examinations

The Waiver Examinations are primarily in a multiple-choice format, although some exams have a section with short answer essay questions. Students will provide their responses to multiple-choice questions on a Scantron (Form 882 ES). A Scantron machine is used to grade the multiple-choice questions in the exams. Short answer essay questions will be graded by faculty members who teach the course being tested.

Students must receive at least a grade of B (83%) to pass the Waiver Examinations. If you are successful in these exams, you will not have to complete these courses (SW 601, 619, and/or 690) in the Graduate program, but will need to take an elective course approved by the Graduate Advisor for each of the courses waived. During the first week of class, you may drop the course(s) that you waived and add the approved elective(s).

Admissions: Conditional Status

Most students admitted to the School of Social Work are given the status of “Classified” upon their admission. Occasionally, students may be admitted under “Conditional” status. This means that certain conditions (e.g., 3.0 GPA in all coursework) must be met within a specified time period (generally 12 units). If students with Conditional status do not meet the specified conditions by the time period indicated, they will not be allowed to continue in the MSW Program, unless the Graduate Advisor grants an extension for the conditions. Once conditions have been met, the Graduate Advisor will submit a Change of Status form to the Graduate Division, which will change the student’s status to Classified. For questions related to Conditional and Classified Status, please contact the Graduate Advisor or the MSW Admissions Director, Cheryl James, LCSW at cjames@sdsu.edu.

Transfer of Units

A maximum of 30 graduate units may be transferred from a CSWE accredited School of Social Work MSW program. Only Social Work courses can be used to substitute for the required coursework in the program. If you have graduate Social Work courses to transfer, you must see Dr. Ko for an evaluation and the submission of the required paperwork, and you must make sure that the transcripts of the work are on file with Graduate Admissions. Transfer credit will not be accepted for the advanced practice courses (SW 744, 739, 740, and 745), advanced research courses (SW 791, 797), or the MSW II Advanced Field Practicum course (SW 750).

The School of Social Work does not accept life/work experience as transfer credit, or in lieu of any course requirements or academic credits.
Dropping and Adding Classes

The University provides a program adjustment period when classes may be dropped and/or added. Adding a class follows the procedures developed by the Office of the Registrar (http://registrar.sdsu.edu/students/registration). The administration of the School of Social Work discourages instructors from accepting students above the recommended class size for a course section.

The deadline for adding and dropping classes for Fall Semester is September 10, 2018. Please check with the Division of Graduate Affairs at (619) 594-5213 for information about the add/drop deadline for Spring Semester 2019. Students may be permitted to add or drop classes after the deadline but will have to pay a fee to do so, usually $20. Please note that dropping classes after the deadline is considered only with a documented, serious and compelling reason, and generally entails dropping all coursework for the semester, as opposed to a single class. If you find that you have a serious, compelling reason (e.g., severe illness, family emergency) for dropping your coursework, please contact Dr. Ko, the Graduate Advisor. You will need to: (a) complete a Petition for Late Schedule Adjustment (obtained from the Division of Graduate Affairs); (b) obtain the signatures of your instructors; (c) write a letter detailing the serious and compelling reasons for dropping your coursework; (d) provide documentation (e.g., a doctor’s note); and (e) obtain the signature of the Graduate Advisor. Once this process is completed, the petition is to be turned in to the Division of Graduate Affairs who makes the determination about whether or not the student can drop courses after the deadline date.

Leave Of Absence

Students need to file a leave of absence every semester that they are not matriculating. Students are allowed to take up to four semesters of approved leave of absence (SDSU Graduate Bulletin, 2018-2019, p. 66). It is your responsibility to meet all the necessary application and registration deadlines for the semester in which you intend to resume your courses, including deadlines for applying for a social work field placement (SW 650 or 750). Please be advised that a leave of absence may delay your timely progression through the program. For example, prerequisites for enrollment in a course must be met. It is your responsibility to notify Dr. Ko, the Graduate Advisor, of your intent to take a leave of absence. If you are in the SW 650 or 750 Field Practicum course or have applied for a field course, you must also notify Amanda Lee, LCSW, Director of Field Education, that you no longer wish a field placement. These notifications should be done in writing (i.e., by email).

Change in Program

Students are accepted into the program under 2-year, 3-year, or 4-year options. If you are in the full-time (2-year) program, or the 3-year program, and find that you need to reduce your course load, please complete the Change in Program form (you may download the form on Page 50 or obtain a hard copy from Dr. Ko, the Graduate Advisor). You will need to meet with Dr. Ko to obtain approval to change programs. If the change in program results in a year-long delay of a Field course, you must inform Amanda Lee, LCSW, Director of Field Education that you will not be enrolling in Field.
Seven Year Rule – Completion of Requirements for the MSW

No course on an Official Program of Study can be accepted that will be more than 7 years old on the date of the award of your degree. This is the "Seven Year Rule" observed by almost all graduate schools. This means that you have 7 years from the date of the first course listed on the official program of study to complete your degree. After 7 years your coursework becomes ineligible to count toward a degree. Please contact the Graduate Advisor if you have concerns that any of your previous coursework was completed more than 7 years ago.

Coursework that is no longer eligible to count toward a degree may be considered for validation of “recency.” Please contact Dr. Ko, the Graduate Advisor, for an explanation of this option.

Academic Expectations

Students must maintain a cumulative 3.0 grade point average (GPA) in all coursework taken in the Graduate program in order to remain in good standing and be eligible to be awarded the MSW. If you receive a grade of C in a course it must be balanced by grades in one or more other courses that raise your overall grade point average to at least 3.0. A grade of C- or below is not acceptable even if a 3.0 average is achieved. A course in which a C- or below is given must be repeated.

The Graduate Advisor of the School of Social Work has responsibility for periodic review and evaluation of all graduate students' progress in achieving the Master of Social Work Degree. In keeping with the requirement of the Graduate School that all graduate students remain in good academic standing during the course of their study, it is a serious concern to the School of Social Work if the student is not maintaining a cumulative overall average grade of 3.0 or better throughout their matriculation. Having a GPA of at least 3.0 is necessary in order for the Graduate Advisor to file a student's Official Program of Study with the Graduate Division. Students cannot be advanced to candidacy for the MSW degree unless they have: (a) taken and passed the Qualifying Exam (see section below on Qualifying Exam); (b) have an Official Program of Study on file with the Division of Graduate Affairs; and (c) have a GPA of at least 3.0. Furthermore, students are not allowed to sit for the Comprehensive Exam or complete a thesis committee form unless they have been advanced to candidacy and have a GPA of 3.0 in both their overall GPA and the social work courses on their Official Program of Study (See Pages 22-28 for discussion of “Important Milestones to Graduation”, Qualifying Exam, and Comprehensive Exam/Thesis/Publishable Paper).

The University does not confer a graduate degree to students who finish their Official Program of Study with a GPA of less than 3.0. Failure to achieve the 3.0 GPA could result in being disqualified from the MSW program. It is the student's responsibility to be aware of all requirements for graduation, including the GPA requirements and whether or not the requirements have been met.

The Graduate Advisor reviews the academic performance of all students at the end of each semester. As a courtesy, Dr. Ko will send notices to those students whose GPA is below the required 3.0, or who have other problems in their Official Program of Study (i.e., courses that need to be retaken, outstanding grades of Incomplete, or other situations that stop their academic progress and/or impact their eligibility to take the Qualifying and Comprehensive Exams, or to graduate). If you receive a notice about your academic performance, you should contact and make an appointment with Dr. Ko to discuss your situation and make a plan for improvement.

Academic Probation

The University requires that graduate students maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.85 or above. If a student’s GPA drops below 2.85, he or she will be placed on Academic Probation. The student has two semesters to bring his/her overall cumulative GPA back to 2.85 or above. A term GPA of 2.85 or above is required in the semester immediately following being placed on Probation; otherwise, the Division of Graduate Affairs will disqualify the student from the University. If the student obtains a term GPA of 2.85 or above, he or she is allowed to continue in the MSW program; however, he or she must still have the overall cumulative GPA of 2.85 or above by the end of the next semester or he or she will be disqualified from the University. “If at the end of the second semester the student has attained a 2.85 or better on all work attempted at San Diego State University, academic probation will be lifted” (Graduate Bulletin 2018-2019, p. 66).

Consequences for “No Credit” Grades in Field Coursework

The MSW I and MSW II Field Practicums (SW 650 or SW 750/755 courses) are graded on a Credit (CR) or No Credit (NC) basis. Please note that a grade of No Credit (NC) in SW 650 or 750 courses will result in an automatic disqualification from the Social Work program.

Reinstatement of Academically Disqualified Students

Students who have been disqualified from further attendance at the University may not attend SDSU for one full semester. They must file an application for readmission and file a $55 readmission fee (see Graduate Bulletin, 2018-2019, p. 66). The Division of Graduate Affairs will send them a Petition for Reinstatement. To return to the MSW program, they must file an application for re-admission.

The Student Affairs Committee (SAC) will review the application for re-admission of any previously disqualified students and determine whether they should be readmitted to the MSW program. The Committee may request a student who has been disqualified to meet with the Committee to discuss the reasons they were disqualified and their plans for addressing these issues if readmitted. They may also request that the disqualified students provide reference letters supporting their reinstatement. Likewise, students who have applied for re-admission may contact the Chair of the SAC, Dr. Lucinda Rasmussen, and request an appointment with the SAC. They may give an oral statement before the Committee stating the reasons they wish to be readmitted and provide to the Committee written documentation to support their application for readmission. If the Committee decides to readmit a disqualified student they may make recommendations regarding actions the student can take to ensure future success in the MSW program. The student should consult with Dr. Ko, the Graduate Advisor, before initiating this process.
School of Social Work Grading Policy

Faculty members in the School of Social Work take great care in the assignment of grades. The grading policy is as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>%</th>
<th>Grade</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>94-100</td>
<td>A</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>90-93</td>

</tbody>

The grades at the School of Social Work will reflect the University policy. No formula for a "curve" is appropriate for all classes, but faculty members are expected to use all grades among academic levels. The grade for average achievement in undergraduate programs is C; the grade for average graduate achievement is B. Graduate grades, as per University policy (See Graduate Bulletin P. 63), are:

A: Outstanding achievement
B: Average
C: Minimally passing
D: Unacceptable for graduate credit
F: Failing
CR: Credit
NC: No Credit
RP: Report in Progress
I: Incomplete authorized
IC: Incomplete Charged
WU: Withdrawal Unauthorized

These grades will be further defined by the criteria described below.

Grading Guidelines:

Grades of A or A- are reserved for student work that not only demonstrates excellent mastery of content, but also shows that the student has (a) undertaken complex tasks, (b) applied critical thinking skills to the assignment, and/or (c) demonstrated creativity in her or his approach to the assignment. The degree to which the student demonstrates these skills determines whether he/she receives an A or an A-.
A grade of B+ is given to work that is judged to be very good. This grade denotes that a student has demonstrated a more-than-satisfactory understanding of the material being tested, and has exceeded expectations in the assignment.

A grade of B is given to student work that meets the basic requirements of the assignment. It denotes that the student has done satisfactory work on the assignment and meets the expectations of the course.

A grade of B- denotes that a student's performance was less than satisfactory on an assignment, reflecting only moderate grasp of content and is below expectations.

A grade of C reflects a minimal grasp of the assignments, poor organization of ideas and/or several significant areas requiring improvement.

Grades between C- and F denote a failure to meet minimum standards, reflecting serious deficiencies in a student's performance on the assignment.

A grade of Credit in graduate level courses is equivalent to grades that earn 3.0 or more grade points (B and above).

A grade of No Credit in graduate level courses is equivalent to grades that earn less than 3.0 grade points (B- and below).

A grade of RP (Report in Progress) is used in courses that extend more than one term (e.g., Field courses: SW 650 and 750). It indicates that work is in progress, has been evaluated, and is satisfactory to date. In assigning grades, the assumption will be that the student has completed the assignment at an average level of achievement (B for graduate students; C for undergraduate students). Students who demonstrate higher or lower performance levels will receive grades consistent with the guidelines provided, including plus and minus grades.

Incompletes

A grade of Incomplete (I) indicates that a small, clearly identifiable portion of the required coursework has not been completed and evaluated in the prescribed time period due to unforeseen, but fully justified, reasons (e.g., personal illnesses, disabling accidents, or family emergencies). It is the responsibility of the student to inform their instructor if they have an emergency situation and believe they must resort to an Incomplete. If the instructor agrees that an emergency situation exists, he or she will determine with the student the means by which the remaining course requirements will be completed. In most cases, the student must have completed at least 70% in order to be granted an Incomplete. The grade for the course will be assigned when the remaining work is completed and evaluated.

An Incomplete not made up within a one year automatically converts to an Incomplete Charged (IC). An IC grade counts as an F in the calculation of Your GPA. This is the case whether or not the student maintains continuous enrollment. Please note that a grade of Incomplete in the Field practicum courses must be made up before the next semester Field course begins.

Please be advised that a grade of Incomplete may interfere with timely progression through the program. A course with a grade of (I) does not fulfill the prerequisite requirements of another course. Students will not be eligible to take the Comprehensive Exam if they have any outstanding grades of Incomplete.

SDSU Student Ability Success Center (SASC)

The School of Social Work abides by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 as amended. Students who have disabilities that can potentially impact their academic performance may request special accommodations by contacting the SDSU Student Ability Success Center (SASC). Students who suspect they may have a disability should contact SASC and request an informational session with an SASC counselor. If the counselor agrees that the student’s concerns may reflect a disability, the counselor will refer the student for an evaluation.

If you are a student with a disability and believe you will need accommodations for any or all of your classes, it is your responsibility to contact SASC at (619) 594-6473. To avoid any delay in the receipt of your accommodations, you should contact SASC as soon as possible. Please note that accommodations are not retroactive, and that accommodations based upon disability cannot be provided until you have presented your instructor with an accommodation letter from SASC.

If an SASC evaluation determines that a student has a disability and is eligible for academic accommodations (e.g., extended time for taking exams), it is the student’s responsibility to inform instructors and provide the necessary paperwork from SASC for appropriate academic accommodations. Please note that the Graduate Advisor is available to expedite a student’s referral to SASC. Please refer to the SDSU Student Ability Success Center website at http://go.sdsu.edu/student_affairs/sds/ for additional information.

Students who are requesting academic accommodations for the SW 650 and 750 Field Practicum courses need to follow these procedures:

1. Before the student’s field practicum application due date, contact SASC Student Ability Success Center for an evaluation.
2. Obtain a letter from SASC stating the requested appropriate academic accommodations.
3. Obtain and provide a copy of the completed Release of Information from SASC for the Director of Field Education, Field Faculty, and Field Instructor for consultation with SASC.
4. Inform the Field Instructor / agency field practicum directly or provide written authorization/documentation. Written authorization should include your signature and date, indicating you are authorizing the Director of Field Education or Field Faculty to inform the Field Instructor /agency field practicum of the requested reasonable academic accommodations.

Reasonable academic accommodations need to be requested through SASC before coursework is started. Course instructors and Field faculty are not responsible to provide these accommodations after the fact (e.g. student informing faculty after exams, papers, presentations, at the end of the semester, etc.).

For the Qualifying Exam and Comprehensive Exam, students who need accommodations should bring their SASC paperwork to Dr. Ko to complete. She will arrange with SASC for appropriate academic accommodations for the student to take the Qualifying Exam or Comprehensive Exam.
IV. MSW COURSEWORK –

UNIVERSITY & SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK POLICIES:

All graduate study at San Diego State comes under the supervision of the University's Graduate Division which establishes the general requirements for admission, graduate status and changes of status, probation, disqualification, advancement to candidacy, graduation, and ultimately the awarding of advanced degrees. For the student this means understanding the processes involved, filing the proper forms on time, and fulfilling certain responsibilities. It is strongly recommended that you read the sections of the SDSU Graduate Bulletin 2018-2019 related to the requirements of a Master's degree, with special attention to the section related to the School of Social Work.

Program of Study

The School of Social Work offers several accredited academic programs of study at the master's level:

- Master of Social Work Degree (MSW) – 2 Year, 3-Year, 4-Year Options
- Master of Social Work Degree (MSW) – Advanced Standing Program (ASP)
- Master of Social Work Degree and Master of Public Health Degree (MSW/MPH) - concurrent degrees
- Master of Social Work Degree and Juris Doctor Degree (MSW/JD) – concurrent degrees

Information specific to the Master in Social Work (MSW) degree is presented below. Information specific to either of the concurrent programs can be secured by contacting the Graduate Advisor using the hyperlinks on the School of Social Work website at http://socialwork.sdsu.edu/degrees-programs/graduate-programs/master-of-social-work/msw/

The MSW program is a 60 unit program of study organized around two distinct method concentrations. Each student develops an Official Program of Study identifying his or her concentration of study: Direct Practice or Administration/Community Development.

Within each concentration, students may use their elective courses to further their interest in various service areas in social work (e.g., child welfare, mental health practice, health and aging, school social work).

Graduate Field Education

School of Social Work policies and procedures related to Field Education are contained in a separate document, the 2018-2019 Student Field Manual. This Manual may be accessed on the School of Social Work Field Education website http://socialwork.sdsu.edu/field/student-resources/field-manual/. You are responsible for knowing all policies and procedures related to the Field Practicum courses. For questions, please contact the Faculty Field Coordinator, Amanda Lee, LCSW.
Course Sequencing

Courses in the School of Social Work are described on Pages 394 to 402 of the Graduate Bulletin 2018-2019. The sequence of courses for the MSW Program is outlined in the following table and is also posted on the School of Social Work website at: http://socialwork.sdsu.edu/. If you have questions related to the sequencing of your coursework, please contact the Graduate Advisor. Please refer to Course Sequence Table below:
Sequencing of Courses taken under Options permitted MSW Graduate students.

SDSU School of Social Work - Graduate Student Handbook 2018-2019
Electives and Out of Department Electives

Students are not allowed to take elective courses until they have completed the SW 600 level coursework and taken and passed the Qualifying Exam. The foundation courses are considered prerequisites for the SW 700 level coursework, including elective courses. Exception is made for students who pass Waiver Exams for SW 601, 619, and/or 690, or who have transfer credit. The Graduate Advisor, Dr. Ko may approve these students to take electives, even though they have not yet finished the SW 600 foundation level coursework or taken the Qualifying Exam. Six units of electives (or two courses) may be taken in other departments with the approval of the Graduate Advisor.

Although we offer a variety of electives in the Social Work Program, students may wish to take some elective units in another department at San Diego State University. A Petition for Adjustment of Academic Requirement for the Master's Degree approval form signed by the Graduate Advisor must be filed and accepted by the Division of Graduate Affairs. All such courses must be related to social work and must be approved prior to enrollment by the Graduate Advisor. If you wish to take an out-of-department elective, you should email Dr. Ko and provide a description of the course and a statement about why you wish to take it. Approval will be based on the Graduate Advisor's determination that the course is relevant to your Official Program of Study and that similar content taught from a social work perspective could not be obtained by taking an elective in the School of Social Work.

Students wishing to pursue California LCSW licensure after graduation should check with the California Board of Behavioral Sciences (http://www.bbs.ca.gov) to see what coursework is currently required for eligibility to take the LCSW examinations. Please note that the California Business and Professions Code (California Board of Behavioral Sciences – BBS Statutes and Regulations) require pre-licensure coursework in child abuse, substance abuse, domestic violence, aging & long term care, law & ethics, and human sexuality to be eligible for the California State Licensed Clinical Social Worker (LCSW). Students should check with BBS to see if a particular School of Social Work or University course might be accepted to fulfill LCSW pre-licensure requirements.

IMPORTANT MILESTONES TO GRADUATION

The following is a brief summary of the “Steps to Graduation,” which are discussed in detail in the various sections of this Handbook:

1. Achieve Classified Status in the MSW program. Most students are admitted as “classified” students. Some will be admitted as “conditionally classified.” Students admitted conditionally will become classified when the conditions are met.

2. Maintain an overall GPA of 3.0 or above.

3. Pass all SW 600 level courses with a grade of at least a C.

4. Take and pass the Qualifying Exam.

5. Choose either the Direct Practice or Administrative/Community Development Practice as the concentration for your Official Program of Study (the choice is determined by... the type of agency that accepts you for your second year Field placement). Select electives based on your area of interest (e.g., mental health, child welfare, aging, school social work, administration, community development).

6. Have an Official Program of Study filed with the Division of Graduate Affairs. This is done by Dr. Ko after a student has successfully passed the Qualifying examination. The Official Program of Study cannot be filed if a student has a grade of C- or below on any of the courses needed for the Official Program or if the student has a GPA of less than 2.85.

7. Be Advanced to Candidacy. For many students this usually takes place during Summer term between finishing SW 600 level courses and beginning SW 700 level courses. For Advanced Standing students, it usually takes place after the end of the Fall Semester. However, in order to be “Advanced to Candidacy”, a student must have a GPA of at least 3.00 for completed courses listed on the Official Program of Study and an overall GPA of at least 3.00 for all completed courses that are at the 300 level or above. Dr. Ko will advance the student to candidacy when they become eligible.

8. Pass all SW 700 level courses with a grade of at least a C while maintaining an overall GPA of at least 3.00.

9. File for Graduation with the Division of Graduate Affairs (see discussion below). Please note that students who have not been advanced to candidacy before the administration of comprehensive exam will not become eligible to graduate until Summer semester at the earliest.

10. Take and pass the Comprehensive Exam; complete and defend a Thesis; or complete a publishable article under the supervision of a faculty member. Please note the completion of any of these alternatives cannot be reported to the Graduate Division unless the student has first achieved “Candidacy” (i.e., is Advanced to Candidacy).

Qualifying Exam

Students in the MSW program are required to successfully pass a written Qualifying Exam before being advanced to candidacy and allowed to enroll in the Social Work 700 level courses. Students take the Qualifying Exam at the end of the Spring Semester during the final exam period. The exam tests students’ knowledge of the foundation (SW 600) content in social work. Mastery of this content is deemed essential before moving on to the advanced specialized course material.

Students are eligible to sit for the Qualifying Exam if they will have completed or are enrolled in 31 units of Social Work 600 level coursework by the end of the Spring Semester 2019 with a grade of at least a C in each course tested on the exam. If students become eligible after the Spring Semester 2018, they may take the exam at the retake (scheduled in July 2019), otherwise they will have to wait until the Spring Semester 2020 to take the exam. This sitting for the exam assumes that the student’s eligibility problem has been resolved. There are no exceptions to this rule. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that they meet all eligibility criteria.

Content comes from first year course work in Micro and Macro Practice (SW 630, 631, 632), Policy and Services (SW 601), Research (SW 690, SW 610) and HBSE (SW 619, 620). Topics for the exam are listed in the Master Syllabus for each of the above courses. A Study Guide for the exam is posted on the School of Social Work website at the beginning of Spring Semester. The instructors who taught the SW 600 courses have constructed the Study Guide. The texts related to the topics that are outlined are suggested references based on the most common text or readings used in your first year courses. Common refers to those items in use across sections.

The exam is multiple-choice; test questions which address the competencies are developed by the instructors of the 600 level courses. Students will note their responses on a scantron (Form 882 ES) provided with the exam, and a scantron machine will be used to grade the exam. Copies will be numbered and students will sign for receipt, and again when they return their copy. The exam must be returned in order for the student to receive a grade. No cell phones are allowed in the exam room. If students need to leave the room during the exam, they must ask the Proctor for permission. The Proctor will hold the scantron while the student is out of the room. Violations of any of the above may lead to the disqualification of the student's exam.

Special testing arrangements are available for students identified through Student Ability Success Center (SASC). Students requiring these arrangements must contact Dr. Ko and/or complete the appropriate procedures and documentation at SASC.

Students are allowed two attempts to pass the exam (in May and July). If a student is ill on the day the first time the exam is given, he or she must notify the School by either calling the main telephone number 594-6865, and leaving a message on the VMS, or informing HH 119 office staff directly, or by emailing Dr. Eunjeong Ko at (eko@sdsu.edu). In case of illness, the student must bring a letter from a doctor verifying the illness to be eligible to take the exam on the second examination day as their first try.

Students may have an unanticipated event or emergency of a serious nature that prevents them from taking the examination. They should call the School of Social Work office and follow the procedures outlined above. If the student is unable to make this early contact he or she must present a justification with supporting documentation that includes: (a) a description of the event that caused him or her to miss the exam, (b) justification of why the event was unanticipated and necessitated missing the exam, and (c) satisfactory reasons for why he or she were not able to contact the School prior to the exam. Based on the evidence provided, the School will determine whether or not the student is eligible to take the exam on the second examination day as his or her first attempt. If the School determines students have not presented adequate justification for missing that exam, they forfeit their first examination attempt and will only have one chance to take the examination (at the retake exam in July).

A grade of 70% or above is needed to pass the exam. For students who fail the exam, the Graduate Advisor, Dr. Ko, will provide a summary of the areas in the exam that the student performed poorly. The exam itself will not be made available for review. Students who fail the exam are responsible for reviewing material on their own. Procedures for the retake duplicate the conditions of the first examination process and all the same expectations apply. The Qualifying exam is in a multiple choice format (Policy adopted in August, 2017). The retake examination will reflect the same set of knowledge and skills requirements, as the initial examination required. The exam must be taken prior to attending classes in the Fall Semester. If the student plans to retake the exam, he or she must notify Dr. Ko by email (eko@sdsu.edu), or Dr. Dahlia Fuentes (dahlia.fuentes@sdsu.edu).

Students who pass the Qualifying Exam will be Advanced to Candidacy and an Official Program of Study will be filed with the Division of Graduate Affairs. The Graduate Advisor files the paperwork in the early part of the Fall Semester during following the successful passing of the Qualifying exam. Students will receive notification from the Division of Graduate Affairs that they have been advanced to Candidacy and have an Official Program of Study on file. Questions about the Program of Study or Advancement to Candidacy should be directed to Dr. Ko.

Those students not passing the exam will not be allowed to continue in the program until they pass. Students can take the exam as many times as they want until they pass it. However, for those attempting to take 3rd time or more, the exam will be given only once a year in May. It is the students’ responsibility to file the Leave of Absence when they are not matriculating.

Before taking the Qualifying Exam, please review the Study Guide posted on the School of Social Work website.

Thesis or Comprehensive Exam

In addition to completing the courses listed on their Official Program of Study and passing the Qualifying Exam, all students must complete and successfully defend a Thesis or pass a Comprehensive Exam to meet all academic requirements for graduation. The Thesis or Comprehensive Exam fulfills the University requirement of an “integrative experience” for a Master’s degree. When a student is admitted into the MSW program, she or he is admitted with the agreement that they will complete a Thesis or take the Comprehensive Exam. The decision is made when you register for classes in your last semester of the program.

Thesis

If you are planning to do a Thesis, you should have your ideas and procedures worked out long before your last semester, when your choice to do a Thesis becomes official. Information on the requirements and conduct of a Thesis will be discussed in the SW 690 Research class and can be found in a University guide to the conduct of a Thesis at SDSU. Please contact Graduate Affairs at either gra@sdsu.edu or 619-594-5213.

The steps for completing a Thesis are briefly summarized below:

1. Identify a research topic that you are interested in.
2. Contact Faculty who are currently doing research related to your topic of interest.
3. Form a Thesis Committee (a Chair, plus two other Faculty members). One Faculty member must be from outside the School of Social Work.
4. Complete the Thesis form (available at the office of the Division of Graduate Affairs); obtain signatures from your Thesis Chair and other Committee members and the Graduate Advisor). Submit the completed form to the Division of Graduate Affairs.

5. Begin literature review. (Ideally, this should be done during the summer term before beginning SW 700 level coursework).

6. Work with Thesis Chair to formulate the research questions and methodology of the study.

7. Write up first three chapters of Thesis (i.e., Statement of the Problem, Review of Literature, and Methodology)

8. Submit proposal to the SDSU Institutional Review Board and obtain their approval to conduct the study.

9. Gather or obtain the data for the study. Enroll in SW 799 for each semester that you are working on the Thesis.

10. Input the data, complete statistical analyses, and analyze the findings.

11. Write up the last two chapters of Thesis (i.e., Findings and Discussion).

12. Submit draft of Thesis to Thesis Chair and committee members for their review.

14. Submit completed Thesis to the Division of Graduate Affairs. Note: you must complete and submit the Thesis by the deadline dates specified on the Division’s website: (a) without risk (in April, date to be determined by Graduate Division); (b) completion date (in May, date to be determined by Graduate Division); and (c) last day to submit (in May, date to be determined by Graduate Division). Otherwise you will not be able to graduate on time and your graduation will be delayed until Summer Semester (August). For further information, please contact Graduate Affairs at either grad@sdsu.edu or 619-594-5213.

Comprehensive Exam

If you choose the Comprehensive Exam, you will take it in your final Spring Semester, not before. This year’s Exam will be given on April 8, 2019. The exam is scheduled again before the end of the Spring Semester (date to be determined) for those students who failed the first time, or were not eligible to take the exam at the time that Dr. Dahlia Fuentes, Associate Director of the School of Social Work, determined students’ eligibility (early March), but have since become eligible. Please note that students who have not been advanced to candidacy before April 8, 2019 will not become eligible to graduate until Summer Semester at the earliest. They should still apply for Summer Graduation during Spring Semester. As noted above, students may walk in the 2019 Commencement exercises if they have applied for Graduation for the Spring 2019, Summer 2019, or Fall 2019 semesters.

If the administration of the School of Social Work determines that there is a need to schedule the exam a third time, it may be given during the following Fall Semester. You must take the Comprehensive Exam during one of the scheduled times; it is not possible to arrange a different date to take the exam.

To be eligible to take the Comprehensive Exam, students must:

1. Complete all first year classes (31 units) and SW 744 or 740, SW 791 or SW 797, and 750 or 755.
2. Receive grades of C or above for all graded courses in the MSW program, and SP or CR for CR/NC courses.
3. Be advanced to candidacy.
4. Have a 3.0 GPA in all courses on the Official Program of Study, and a cumulative 3.0 GPA in the University.
5. Have no grades of Incomplete.
6. Have filed for May graduation or be eligible to graduate in August or December.

The Comprehensive Exam Study Guide will be posted on the School of Social Work website at the beginning of Spring Semester. Students are given three opportunities to pass the Comprehensive Examination.

Students who fail the second exam are required to design and successfully implement a plan of study that gives the student a reasonable chance of passing the exam. They should consult with the Graduate Advisor when developing the plan. The Advisor will refer the student to the School of Social Work Student Affairs Committee (SAC), who will review the plan and approve its implementation. The third exam cannot be taken until the committee has recommended that the student be allowed to make an additional attempt. Students who do not successfully pass the exam in three attempts will be disqualified from the MSW Program and will not be recommended to be awarded the MSW degree.

Alternative Method of Meeting the Comprehensive Exam Requirement

Students have a third option for completing the culminating experience required by the University. This involves researching an area of interest and writing a research article that is of publishable quality and ready to be submitted to a peer reviewed journal. Students who are interested in this option should contact the Graduate Advisor. Information about this option can be found at:

http://socialwork.sdsu.edu/student-resources/references/publishable-paper/

Changing from Thesis, or Publishable Paper to Comprehensive Exam

Students may be allowed to switch from the Thesis or publishable paper options to the Comprehensive Exam, and vice versa, but must request the approval of the Graduate Advisor, Dr. Ko. If the change is approved, Dr. Ko will submit a Change of Program form to the Graduate Division. However, a switch from one option to the other is permitted only if you have not defended the Thesis or failed the Comprehensive Exam.
Graduation Application

Graduation does not occur automatically upon completion of all requirements. You must apply for graduation and pay the required fee. Deadlines for each semester are listed on the Academic Calendar on the SDSU website or in the Graduate Bulletin. Please check with the Graduate Affairs for the exact date. Applications for Graduation in the Summer Semester 2019 are also accepted in the Spring Semester. If you plan to graduate in the summer, but want to go through the Commencement Exercises in May, you should file for Summer Graduation by the Spring Semester deadline during the last week of January 2019.

The application for graduation is valid for one semester only. Should you fail to graduate in the semester for which you applied, you must reapply for the next semester, and pay an additional fee. Please check the Graduate Affairs website for the Graduation application: http://grad.sdsu.edu/current_grad_students

Graduating students: Please note that if you are not advanced to candidacy by the beginning of the Spring Semester, you will most likely not be able to graduate until Summer Semester 2019. However, you can still participate in the Commencement Exercises in May 2019. All students who file for graduation will be allowed to participate in the Commencement Ceremony regardless of whether or not they qualify to receive the degree.

Graduation information will be mailed to students by the Dean's Office in the College of Health and Human Services. Inquiries about the Commencement Ceremony should be directed to the Dean's Office, 619.594.6151. Announcements related to the Commencement Ceremony will also be posted online on the College of Health and Human Services website (see http://chhs.sdsu.edu/) and will be sent to students via the graduate announcements sent by the Graduate Advisor.

Please note: students are not allowed to participate in the Commencement Ceremony if they fail to apply for graduation by the designated deadline. There are NO EXCEPTIONS to this policy!

SDSU School Social Work Specialization Education, Training, And Certification Requirements

Pupil Personnel Services Credentials:

Please refer to the SSW PPS Credential Website: http://socialwork.sdsu.edu/degrees-programs/graduate-programs/pps-credential/

The School Social Work Specialization program at SDSU prepares students for the practice of social work services in school settings, providing the education and training necessary to be certified by the State of California to work in public schools. This program meets the requirements for two specializations for Pupil Personnel Services (PPS) Credentials: (a) School Social Work and (b) Child Welfare Services.

The program is integrated into the existing MSW program, with students selecting the direct practice concentration. Specific requirements include:
• SWORK 750 (Field Practicum in an approved School Social Work setting -- 8 units)
• SWORK 758 (Seminar in School Social Work – 3 units)
• SWORK 798 (Special Study – 1 unit)
• SWORK 720 (Psychosocial Development of Vulnerable Children - recommended)
• SWORK 702 (Advanced Policy focused on children and/or families and disadvantaged communities)

California PPS Certification Requirements:

Supervised Experience Requirements: the requirements below of supervised experience fall within the number of field hours required of all second-year MSW students:

School Social Work Specialization

1. Completion of 450 hours of supervised experience working in a public school. This experience must include at least 100 hours of work at each of 2 school levels: elementary, middle-school, high school.

2. At least 100 clock hours of practice with at least 10 pupils of a racial/ethnic background different from that of the credential candidate.

For further information about the PPS curriculum, please contact Paul Brazzel, LCSW at 619.594.6865 or at pbrazzel@sdsu.edu.

Child Welfare Specialization

Completion of an additional 150 contact hours of supervised experience focused on assessment and program development in the area of attendance problems. Thus, if one is working toward both certificates there will be a total of 600 hours of school-based experience.

Other Specialized Programs

The School of Social Work has three other specialized programs. For questions about the Title IVE Child Welfare Stipend program, students should contact the Coordinator, Ken Nakamura, LCSW at 619.594.8709 or at knakamura@sdsu.edu For the Mental Health Training program, they should contact the Coordinator, Amanda Lee, LCSW at 619.594.5144 or at amanda.lee@sdsu.edu. For the Early Childhood-Transdisciplinary Education and Mental Health (EC-TEaMH) certification program for working in the area of early childhood mental health, they should contact the Graduate Advisor, Dr. Ko.
STUDENT RIGHTS AND GRIEVANCE PROCESS

Student Files

Student files are the property of the School of Social Work. It is the University's policy not to remove any materials from a student's file. Students may examine their own files at any time, but cannot remove the file or its contents from the Social Work Office in HH 119. Faculty submitting letters or other documents to a student file or to the Graduate Advisor must send the student a copy of that letter or document.

Students who wish to view the contents of their student file must make a written request to the Director of the School of Social Work, Dr. Jong Won Min. Copies can be requested; the fee for copies is 25 cents per page. For additional information about what is accessible, please refer to the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act.

Steps in the Grievance Process

The Student Affairs Committee is responsible for reviewing the continuing status of any student in the MSW program referred to the Committee by the Graduate Advisor or the Director of the School of Social Work. In addition, the Committee may elect to review the continuing status of any student who is brought to its attention by a concerned faculty member. The Chair of the SAC is Dr. Lucinda Rasmussen. The Committee meets once monthly during the Fall and Spring Semesters. The Chair may call additional meetings on an as needed basis. A quorum of the Committee (i.e., majority of Committee members) is necessary for the Committee to conduct its business.

The SAC is also the designated entity in the School of Social Work for reviewing all grievances (i.e., appeals) by students concerning: (a) decisions by Social Work administration enforcing School of Social Work policy, or (b) behavior of professors or instructors that causes them concern. A student may appeal to the SAC if he or she is dissatisfied by an action of a professor/instructor or a decision by an administrative officer of the School of Social Work (e.g., Graduate Advisor, Director of Field Education) and believes that the action or decision is grossly unfair. If a student believes that a professor or instructor's actions are clearly unprofessional, the student may also bring the complaint to the proper University authorities and official reviewing bodies by following the Procedures for Handling Student Grievances against members of the Faculty, adopted by the Faculty Senate.

The SAC is advisory to the Director and Faculty of the School of Social Work and operates under the authority delegated to the Director of the School of Social Work by the President of the University to administer the policies of the University and School of Social Work. The SAC members are appointed by the Director of the School of Social Work. The SAC consists of at least five full-time members of the Faculty of the School of Social Work, a majority of whom are tenured or tenure track. The Committee is chaired by Dr. Lucinda Rasmussen.

Two student members serve on the SAC (one graduate and one undergraduate). They are selected by the student associations (Graduate Social Work Association and Undergraduate Association) and interviewed by the Chair of the SAC, Dr. Lucinda Rasmussen to determine their suitability to serve on a Committee that makes important decisions regarding the appeals and/or continuing status in the MSW program of their peers. The Chair of the SAC recommends the selected students to Dr. Jong Won Min, Director of the School of Social Work, who officially appoints them to serve as Student Representatives.

The School of Social Work policies and procedures governing the appeals process and the referral of students to the SAC are summarized below:

1. The first step in the process should be a conference with the faculty involved.

2. If the issue is still not resolved, then a conference with the Graduate Advisor is next. The Graduate Advisor will work with the student to try to resolve the situation with the particular Faculty member.

3. In cases where the complaint cannot be settled informally, the SAC is the first line of appeal for students. If a student desires to make an appeal to the SAC, he or she must notify the Graduate Advisor, at least five working days in advance of the scheduled monthly SAC meeting and explain the circumstances that relate to his or her concern. If the student wishes to pursue the appeal, the Graduate Advisor will refer the case to Dr. Lucinda Rasmussen, the Chair of the SAC, who will review the case and place it on the Agenda for the next scheduled SAC meeting. If the appeal is received close to or during a break (i.e., Winter Break or Summer term), it will be scheduled for the first SAC meeting after classes resume.

4. The Graduate Advisor may refer students to the SAC when there are questions related to a student’s academic performance and/or professional behavior. Students will be given at least ten working days’ notice that the SAC will be reviewing their continued status in the MSW program. The Graduate Advisor will meet with the student to explain the reasons for the referral. The student will have opportunity to examine all written materials that are to be submitted by administrators or faculty of the School of Social Work for the Committee’s consideration.

5. Whether students are submitting an appeal, or were referred by the Graduate Advisor to the SAC, they are permitted to present written testimony before the Committee in their behalf. Written materials must be submitted to the Graduate Advisor at least five working days before the SAC meeting. Documentation may include letters of support and/or other written materials relevant to: (a) a student’s appeal or (b) the circumstances that have resulted in a student’s continuing status in the MSW program being reviewed by the SAC. The Graduate Advisor will copy the materials and provide them to SAC members at least three working days before the meeting.

6. A student who is making an appeal, or whose continuing status in the MSW program is being reviewed by the SAC may be present when facts about his or her circumstances are being presented to the Committee. The student may elect to bring another person for support; however this person may not speak to the Committee. This person may not be a legal representative of the student.

7. Either the SAC or the student may request that the student provide oral testimony before the Committee. Students may not offer additional written materials at the time of their oral presentation, but are limited to the written documentation they previously submitted to the Graduate Advisor at least five working days before the SAC meeting.
8. The SAC is charged with conducting a full, fair, careful, and objective investigation of the situation, and making every effort to resolve the situation to the satisfaction of all concerned without taking the matter further. Members of the SAC will disqualify themselves from participating in the deliberation of individual cases, if, in their opinion, their participation would constitute a conflict of interest. For example, if a member of the SAC is involved in the circumstances related to the student’s appeal, the Committee member will not participate in the Committee’s deliberation in the case and will not vote, but may provide testimony before members of the Committee.

9. If the student’s grievance is against the Graduate Advisor, she will not participate in the deliberation of the case, but might provide testimony before members of the Committee related to the student’s grievance.

10. A quorum of Committee members is necessary for the SAC to consider a student’s appeal or referral from the Graduate Advisor for review of continuing status. Voting by proxy is not permitted.

11. After deliberating and considering the facts presented, the SAC makes their decision and recommends to the Director of the School of Social Work what action should be taken. Note: the role of the SAC is to assure that decisions made by the Graduate Advisor, the Director of Field Education, or other administrative officers of the School of Social Work have been made in accordance with the policies and procedures of the School of Social Work. The SAC does not overturn decisions that were made in accordance with the policies and procedures of the School of Social Work. However, the Committee may make recommendations to the Director and Faculty of the School of Social Work about policies it believes need to be changed.

12. The Chair of the SAC, Dr. Lucinda Rasmussen, will notify the student in writing within five working days of the SAC’s recommendation to the Director of the School of Social Work. Notification will include: (a) the reason the Committee reviewed the student’s continuing status; (b) the evidence the Committee considered in reaching a decision related to the student’s appeal or continuing status in the MSW program, and (c) any elaboration of the Committee’s reasoning deemed necessary by members of the SAC. Notification will be by email and will place a copy of the notification in the student’s file.

13. The student may appeal the recommendation of the SAC directly to the Director of the School of Social Work, Dr. Jong Won Min.

14. If after appealing to the Director of the School of Social Work, the student still does not feel the situation is resolved, he or she may appeal the Director’s decision to the Interim Assistant Dean for Student Affairs in the College of Health and Human Services, Jason Ramirez.

15. The student may appeal the decision of the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs in the College of Health and Human Services to the University Ombudsman.

16. The student may contact the University Ombudsman at any time during the grievance process, but the Ombudsman will generally not take action until he/she is sure that every effort has been taken to solve the problem at the departmental or College level.
Grade Appeals

The SAC does not hear grade appeals. If a student is concerned that a grade given by a faculty member is unfair, he or she should first consult with the instructor, and then, if not satisfied, with the Graduate Advisor. If the student then decides to appeal the grade, he or she needs to set up an appointment with Dr. Jong Won Min, Director of the School of Social Work, to discuss the grade. The student may also consult with the University Ombudsman.

SUSPENSION, DISQUALIFICATION, AND OTHER DISCIPLINARY ACTIONS

Academic Misconduct and Dismissal

Social work education requires continuous evaluation of the student. This evaluation includes periodic objective evaluations such as grades, performance, and field work. Continuation in social work education is contingent upon positive ongoing faculty evaluation of the student's grades, professional attributes, and performance in real or simulated professional situations. A student may be suspended or dismissed from the MSW program for deficiencies in any of the foregoing. In addition, social work students are bound by the ethical guidelines of the National Association of Social Work Code of Ethics and may be academically suspended or dismissed from the MSW program for violation of the professional Code of Ethics (see section on Student Situation Report).

Students in the MSW program are expected to avoid all forms of academic misconduct including: cheating, plagiarizing, stealing course examinations, asking another student to sign the roll for them when they are not going to be attending class, falsifying data, violating copyright laws, and/or intentionally assisting another individual in any of those actions. Please note the following definitions and policies:

1. Cheating “is defined as the act of obtaining or attempting to obtain credit for academic work by the use of dishonest, deceptive, or fraudulent means” (SDSU Graduate Bulletin, 2018-2019, p. 68). Several examples of cheating are listed on Page 68.

2. Plagiarism is defined as “the act of incorporating ideas, words, or specific substance of another, whether purchased, borrowed, or otherwise obtained and submitting same to the University to fulfill academic requirements without giving credit to the appropriate source. Plagiarism shall include but not be limited to: (a) submitting work in part or in whole completed by another; (b) omitting footnotes for ideas, statements, facts, or conclusions that belong to another; (c) omitting quotation marks when quoting directly from another, whether it be a paragraph, sentence, or part thereof; (d) close and lengthy paraphrasing of the work of another; (e) submitting another’s artistic works such as musical compositions, paintings, drawings, or sculptures; and (e) submitting as one’s own work papers purchased from research companies (SDSU Graduate Bulletin, 2018-2019, p. 68).

3. Giving authorship credit. The social work Code of Ethics states that social workers should take responsibility and credit, including authorship credit, only for work they have actually performed and to which they have contributed. Social workers should honestly acknowledge the work of and the contributions made by others (NASW, 2008). Students should be careful to give appropriate authorship credit to anyone from whom they have obtained information for written assignments and class presentations, including citing books, journal articles, Internet websites, class lectures, professional colleagues, and/or classmates. Student should consult their instructors if they have questions or are unclear about how to incorporate and cite the work of others.

4. Consequences for academic misconduct. Academic misconduct, including cheating and plagiarism, is a serious offense in academia and according to the Graduate Bulletin 2018-2019, p. 66-68:

may warrant two separate and distinct courses of action that may be applied concurrently in response to a violation of this policy: (a) academic sanctions, such as grade modifications; and (b) disciplinary sanctions, such as probation, suspension, or expulsion.

Academic sanctions are concerned with the student's grades and are the responsibility of the instructor involved. Disciplinary sanctions are concerned with the student's records and status on campus and shall be the responsibility of the university President or designated representative. The Director of the Center for Student Rights and Responsibilities shall be the president's representative in matters of student discipline.

A student who is suspected of cheating or plagiarizing will be asked to meet with the instructor and the Graduate Advisor to assess the situation and determine the consequences that the instructor may implement. This may include failing the assignment or failing the course. The incidents relating to academic misconduct will also be reported to the Chair of the School of Social Work Student Affairs Committee. Any academic misconduct, including plagiarism infractions, will be reported to the SDSU Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities as it is mandated by the CSU Chancellor who may initiate their own consequences. Severe cases of documented academic misconduct may result in the Graduate Advisor recommending to the Graduate Division that the student be disqualified from the MSW program.

If you are unsure as to what is plagiarism, please take the 30-minute pre-and post- online quiz: SDSU Plagiarism: The crime of intellectual kidnapping by SDSU Librarian Pamela Jackson, found at: http://library.sdsu.edu/guides/tutorial.php?id=28 For more information, visit the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities: http://go.sdsu.edu/student_affairs/srr/academic-dishonesty.aspx

Student Situation Report Procedures and Policies:

The following procedures and policy are listed below:

Students are expected to be professional when enrolled in the SDSU School of Social Work. This entails both behavioral and ethical appropriateness in all interactions. The School requires continuous monitoring of the student by Faculty. Optimal social work education is contingent upon positive ongoing faculty evaluation of the student’s grades, professional attributes and performance in real or simulated professional situations.

By enrolling in the SDSU School of Social Work, students are expected to be professional and act in accordance and compliance with social work ethics, values, and academic standards set forth by the University and the School. The SDSU School of Social Work has adopted the NASW Code of Ethics 2017 revised, https://www.socialworkers.org/About/Ethics/Code-of-Ethics as its academic standard. Students are responsible as adult learners to abide by ethical standards 1-6 of the NASW Code of Ethics -2017 revised, which are relevant to professional behavior for a student in the MSW program. Examples of behaviors or situations that are not consistent with these ethical standards are listed below:

1. Applying practice and/or service delivery outside the scope of social work practice.

2. Violating the social worker’s ethical responsibility to clients, colleagues, the agency setting, and the social work profession.

3. Misrepresenting self as other than a social work student or an intern while in School program.

4. Being disrespectful to colleagues and supervisors in an internship by verbal and non-verbal communication, (e.g., language used in email and written work, voice tone, volume, etc.).

5. Attending an internship under the influence of drugs and exhibiting acting-out behavior. Professional and ethical behavior requires students to be free of substance abuse.

Procedures:

When a faculty member considers the actions of a MSW student to be inconsistent with Ethical Standards 1-6 of the NASW Code of Ethics (see examples above), the faculty member may implement the following procedure:

1. The faculty member will meet individually with the student to discuss the situation.

2. The faculty member may elect to informally discuss the situation with the Graduate Advisor.

3. If the faculty member or the Graduate Advisor decides the situation should be documented, the faculty member will complete the Student Situation Report in its entirety within 3 days of the incident. Some activities that occur on campus property that may be disruptive may warrant a step in addition to a situation report. These incidents should also be reported to the Center for Student Rights and Responsibilities http://go.sdsu.edu/student_affairs/srr/Default.aspx.

4. If the Graduate Advisor is the faculty member involved, he or she may elect to go to the Associate Director to implement the same procedure.

5. The faculty member will immediately forward the report to the Graduate Advisor.

6. The Graduate Advisor will forward the report to the student and keep a copy. The student will be encouraged to meet with the Graduate Advisor to discuss the report. The student may elect to submit a written response that will be attached to Advisor’s copy.

7. The Graduate Advisor will be responsible for compiling and tracking student situations. These reports will be kept confidential, unless the advisor recommends the student for review by the SAC. Once the student has left the University by graduation or otherwise, any situation reports held by the Graduate Advisor will be destroyed.

8. The Graduate Advisor will inform the School's Associate Director of each student situation report and the Associate Director shall apprise the Director.

9. Depending on the Graduate Advisor’s evaluation of the action reported, the Graduate Advisor may immediately recommend the discontinuance of the student in the social work program. If three Situation Reports are recorded on an individual student, the Graduate Advisor will recommend that the SAC review the student’s academic standing. The SAC will make a recommendation to the Graduate Advisor on the student’s continuing status. In its deliberations, the SAC will be provided all situation reports regarding the student.

10. The Graduate Advisor will evaluate the situation as it relates to university and school policies and report back to the instructor.

Policy:

If a student receives three Situation Reports during his or her course of study in the School of Social Work, the student will be immediately referred to the SAC for academic review. If the Advisor determines that the report involves a serious infraction of the NASW Code of Ethics, the student may be referred to the SAC after one report. The SAC will make a recommendation regarding the student’s continuance/discontinuance in the graduate School of Social Work program.

Disciplinary Disqualification

The School of Social Work defines student misconduct as student behavior that is in violation of regulations established by the Board of Trustees, of college/university regulations, and of rules governing residence on college/university property. Social work students, as citizens, are subject to all federal and state laws in addition to all college/university regulations governing student conduct and responsibility. A student may be suspended or disqualified from the Master of Social Work program for violating laws, rules, or regulations. Students may appeal their disqualification to the SAC (see section on “Grievances” above).

Felony/Misdemeanor Conviction

Students with a felony or misdemeanor conviction should be aware that they may not be able to receive the clinical license in social work in the State of California (LCSW) and may also be excluded from certain jobs, field practicum internship sites, and/or the MSW program. This is stated in the SDSU School of Social Work MSW Admissions Application.

Sexual Harassment Defined

The California Education Code at section 212.5 states in part that "sexual harassment means unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, visual or physical conduct of a sexual nature made by someone from or in the work or educational setting under any of the following conditions:

1. Submission to such conduct is explicitly or implicitly made a term or condition of an individual's employment, academic status or progress.
2. Submission to, or rejection of, such conduct by the individual is used as the basis for employment or academic decisions affecting the individual.
3. The conduct has the purpose or effect of having a negative impact upon the individual's work or academic performance, or of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or educational environment.

Sexual harassment is a violation of several state and federal laws including the California Education Code, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. Sexual harassment is specifically prohibited in the California State University system by Executive Order 345 which became effective in 1981.

If Repeated, Pervasive, or Sufficiently Severe, the Following May Constitute Sexual Harassment:

- Jokes of a sexual nature
- Suggestive gestures
- Derogatory comments of a sexual nature
- Slurs of a sexual nature
- Impeding or blocking movements
- Unwelcome touching
- Displaying sexually suggestive pictures or objects
- Graphic verbal commentaries about an individual's body

What to Do If You Have Been Sexually Harassed?

Students who think that they have been sexually harassed, or who have been sexually assaulted, raped, or stalked may file a report with the SDSU Title IX Coordinator, Jessica Rentto at jrentto@sdsu.edu. More information is at http://titleix.sdsu.edu. All students who have been sexually harassed, assaulted, stalked, or raped are strongly encouraged to file formal complaints. However, students who are not ready to file formally, but who wish to discuss incidents of sexual harassment in a confidential setting, may do so with a counselor from Counseling and Psychological Services (619-594-5220) or Student Health Services (619-594-4325).
Retaliation Is Prohibited

It is illegal to retaliate against anyone reporting or thought to have reported sexual harassment or who is a witness or otherwise is involved in a sexual harassment proceeding. Encouraging others to retaliate also is illegal. Examples include, but are not limited to, retaliatory grading, evaluation, assignment or ridicule, threats and withholding information to which a person is entitled.

Sanctions

Sanctions imposed for sexual harassment or retaliatory behavior by a faculty or staff member include, but are not limited to, reprimand, suspension, demotion, and dismissal (loss of tenure). The sanctions imposed for sexual harassment or retaliatory behavior by a student include, but are not limited to, probation, suspension, and expulsion. Furthermore, harassers have been held by courts to be personally liable to pay millions of dollars in damages.

Examples of Sexual Harassment

The following examples of specific behavior may assist in establishing what constitutes sexual harassment at San Diego State University:

- A teacher offers you a better grade, extra help, or an academic opportunity in return for your sexual attention or threatens action against you for refusal.
• A person supervising your campus job, academic, or off-campus field placement makes repeated sexual comments that interfere with your work or learning experiences.

• An advisor or counselor asks questions of a sexual nature inappropriate to the topic at hand that offend you or make you uncomfortable.

Negative Impact of Sexual Harassment

Below are some examples of the negative impact of harassment and/or sexual harassment on students. They may experience sexual harassment as demeaning and it may:

• Discourage their classroom participation.

• Prevent them from seeking advice or assistance outside of class.

• Cause them to drop or avoid certain classes, to change majors or specialties within majors, and even to leave the University.

• Minimize their development and inhibit collegial relationships with faculty.

• Impede and dampen academic and career aspirations.

• Undermine self-confidence.

• Affect grades, and limit their capacity for full intellectual development and professional success.

VI. STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS AND GROUPS

All graduate students are members of the Graduate Social Work Association (GSWA). Officers of this organization (i.e., the GSWA Executive Board) are typically elected during the Spring Semester and serve for the academic year following their election. The GSWA interfaces between the student body and the administration and faculty of the School of Social Work. GSWA officers make efforts to identify the needs and concerns of students and bring those issues to the attention of the Faculty. They may develop and conduct surveys to gain student feedback about their overall experience in the MSW program and then report the results of those surveys to students and faculty.

The extent of the GSWA’s activities depends upon the degree of student involvement, which varies from year to year. When there is a high degree of student involvement, GSWA officers recommend students to the chairs of faculty committees in the School of Social Work (i.e., Curriculum, Student Affairs, and Diversity Committees) to serve as Student Representatives. The chairs interview these students and recommend them to the Director of the School of Social Work to be appointed as Student Representatives. Student Representatives serve throughout the academic year. They are expected to attend the monthly meetings and participate as a member of their assigned committee. They may: (a) provide input to the committee process from the GSWA Executive Board and graduate student body, and (b) communicate decisions made in the committee back to the GSWA Executive Board and the graduate student body.
When there is a low degree of student involvement in the GSWA, students who wish to be Student Representatives should consult with the Graduate Advisor who will refer the students to be interviewed by the Faculty chairs of the committees and recommended for appointment by the Director of the School of Social Work.

The GSWA activities vary from year to year, but usually include both academic and social activities for graduate students. The GSWA may sponsor study sessions for the Qualifying and Comprehensive Exams. They may also sponsor various social activities for graduate students throughout the year (e.g., Bar-B-Que at the MSW Orientation in August and a Commencement Reception/Breakfast at graduation in May). Typically, the officers consist of a President and Vice President and a team of officers, each of whom have assigned functions (e.g., activities coordinator, part-time student representative). Announcements from the GSWA will be communicated to the student body through “Communications Central”. For information about the GSWA for 2018-2019, please contact Tamara Strohauer, MSW who is the designated faculty advisor to the GSWA. She can be reached at tstrohauer@sdsu.edu or 619-594-8638.

The GSWA also interfaces with other student organizations in the School of Social Work including the:

- Asian and Pacific Islander Social Work Association (APISWA)
- Black Social Work Caucus (BSWC)
- Latino Student Social Work Network (LSSWN)
- OUTReach: for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBT) Social Work and Allies
- Social Action Committee
- Phi Alpha: national honor society

Students are encouraged to consider being involved in the GSWA, as well as one or more of these student organizations. Such involvement can enhance their overall experience in the School of Social Work and provide opportunities for collegiality and professional networking. For information about the GSWA, contact the President, Tiffany Tran at tiffany.k.tran@gmail.com or Ashley Weitensteiner at ashley.weitensteiner@gmail.com.
VII. SUMMARY OF STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

Students must take care of the following:

1. Make sure all official transcripts are in and the GRE score is on file.

2. Make sure all conditions are met to change your status from Conditional or Unclassified to Classified within the time period established when conditional status was granted.

3. Officially add or drop classes within the established timelines.

4. Keep your overall GPA at 3.0 or above.

5. Pass a Qualifying Examination at the end of the semester you are completing all of the 600 level courses required for the MSW degree.

6. Notify the School of Social Work and University Admissions and Records of any changes in name, address, and email.

7. Seek out your Thesis Committee (if you choose the Thesis option) and complete all required paperwork. (If you have questions, ask your Research instructors or the Graduate Advisor).

8. Alternatively, seek out a chair for the Publishable Paper and complete all requirements as directed by the chair.

9. Pass the Comprehensive Exam (if you select the Comprehensive Examination option, instead of the Thesis).

10. Follow the Field Course Instructor /Director of Field Education’s instructions as to field practicum meetings, field placement process timelines, field application deadlines, practicum orientation labs, etc.

11. Obtain approval for transfer units from other schools.

12. Obtain approval from the Graduate Advisor to change your Official Program of Study.

The Division of Graduate Affairs will do the following and let you know by mail:

1. Advance you to Candidacy when you have completed 24 units and been recommended for advancement by the Graduate Advisor. You need not fill out any forms but your Official Program and GRE score must be on file.

2. Inform you of any discrepancies, changes, deficiencies etc. that may bear on your progress through the University.

3. Evaluate you for graduation after you file for it. They will let you know what you still need to complete for the degree. They will remind you that no degree can be awarded until grades of incomplete are removed, all requirements are met, and you have a 3.0 or better GPA. The School of Social Work can only recommend you for the degree. San Diego State University awards it to you.

The School of Social Work will:

1. Complete and file the proper paperwork to change your status from conditional to classified. Forward your Official Program of Study to the Graduate Division, and sign/verify your advancement to candidacy.

2. Dr. Dahlia Fuentes, Associate Director of the School of Social Work, handles all the formal paperwork for the School of Social Work and can help you if there is a problem. Please contact her at 619.594.3555 or at dahlia.fuentes@sdsu.edu. The Official Program of Study is typically sent to the Division of Graduate Affairs in mid-March when Dr. Fuentes reviews students’ eligibility for the Comprehensive Exam or defense of Thesis.

SDSU School of Social Work Policy on Maintaining Client Confidentiality

Students will maintain at all times the confidentiality of clients assigned to them in their field placement. They will protect the confidentiality of their clients when writing papers for their classes and when presenting cases in classes or in integrative seminars by changing clients’ names and disguising all identifying information. Please refer to the School of Social Work Guidelines for Maintaining Client Confidentiality for guidelines on how to protect and maintain client confidentiality and for suggestions on how to appropriately disguise identifying information.

SDSU School of Social Work Guidelines on Maintaining Client Confidentiality

Although we need to practice in accordance with the law and the NASW Code of Ethics in regard to confidentiality, the most compelling reason to maintain confidentiality should be out of respect for our clients. Veteran social work educator Alfred Kadushin advised that we should think of client information as a valuable possession of the client's temporarily lent to us. In fact, we need to remember that ownership of client information always resides with the client.

Though most mental health professionals are conscientious and intend to maintain the confidentiality of their clients, in fact many make unintentional mistakes throughout the course of their careers. The complexities involved in maintaining confidentiality are not a simple matter, and there are many challenges to our best intentions once we get out in the field and begin to practice.

Students are advised to carefully read the confidentiality policy of their field agency so that they are absolutely clear about with whom they may speak after the client agrees to receiving services from their agency.
Violations of Confidentiality

The following is a list of some common mistakes that practitioners or students may make that jeopardize clients’ confidentiality:

- Leaving a message (other than just your name) for a client with someone other than the client or on a common answering machine.

- Accidentally running into a client in public and inadvertently revealing the nature of your relationship to others who happen to be around.

- Needing to share or just blow off steam and talking to a friend or family member about your day, and thus discussing client information.

- A family member of a client calls to get a message to your client and you agree to deliver it, thereby revealing the fact that you are seeing the client.

- A caring, concerned family member of your client calls wanting to know how she can help, or to share some information with you about the client, and you either inadvertently acknowledge that you are seeing the client and/or engage with the family member in a discussion about the client. In this example the client is not a minor, is not in danger of hurting self or another, and is oriented to person, place, and time.

- Feeling you need to answer a question regarding a client from someone with some authority, without a release (e.g., an emergency-room doctor, a lawyer, an insurance company representative, probation officer, etc.).

- A friend or colleague refers a client to you, wants to know if he or she called and how things are going, and you say yes and share a few things. Likewise, you call to thank a colleague for a referral without the client’s permission.

- You run into a referral source who would like to know how things are going with a case, and you share a few things without a release from the client, or in a public place where the information can be overheard.

- A friend enthusiastically says she hears you are seeing someone she knows and that you are really helping. You acknowledge that you are in fact seeing the client.

Guidelines for Maintaining Confidentiality

Client information can be communicated verbally, nonverbally, or in written form, and all types of information need to be protected. The following are some suggestions for protecting client information:

- Get all necessary releases of information/informed consent in written form. If due to some pressing necessity you can only obtain it verbally, document that the client gave you the permission and then follow-up with a written release as soon as possible.

- Should you need to discuss a case or consult with another professional in the classroom or with an outside supervisor to obtain help with the care of your client, make sure you have adequately disguised all identifying information so the client is not recognizable. (See guidelines for disguising client information.)

- Should you ever recognize a client being discussed in an agency, classroom, etc., or with a person with whom you have some social or otherwise nonprofessional relationship and who is not aware that you may be privy to private information about that client, you should excuse yourself from the discussion and leave the room. (This is an ethical matter not a legal one.)

- Client information of any kind should not be transported out of the agency without explicit consent of the agency supervisor.

- Client information should always be locked up or otherwise protected. Don’t leave papers with lists, appointment books, or documents with confidential information unattended (even if you are physically present). This includes writing case notes in public areas where others might see.

- It is your responsibility to educate or otherwise inform other nonprofessional personnel if you feel that they are in any way inadvertently exposing client information (e.g., leaving unfinished reports on the computer screen during lunch or speaking about clients in earshot of other people).

- When faxing information about a client, make sure you include a statement indicating the confidential nature of transmitted information on cover sheets.

- Client information must be adequately disguised when used for class assignments. Process recordings should be shredded after use, as well as papers containing client information when no longer needed for educational purposes.

Senate bill 19, sec. 56.101 reads, “Every provider of health care, health care service plan, or contractor who creates, maintains, preserves, stores, abandons, or destroys medical records shall do so in a manner that preserves the confidentiality of the information contained therein. Any provider of health care, health care service plan, or contractor who negligently disposes, abandons, or destroys medical records shall be subject to the provisions of this part.”

Guidelines for Disguising Client Information

Regarding the disguising of confidential information, Senate Bill 19, section 56.05f states, “Medical information means any individually identifiable information, in electronic or physical form, in possession of or derived from a provider of health care or health care service plan regarding a patient’s medical history, mental or physical condition or treatment.”

“Individually identifiable means that the medical information includes or contains any element of personal identifying information sufficient to allow identification of the individual such as the patient’s address, electronic mail address, telephone number or social security number, or other information that, alone or in combination with other publicly available information, reveals the individual’s identity.”

When preparing case material for classroom discussion or assignments, all identifying information must be deleted and disguised so as to maintain, with certainty, the confidentiality of the client. However, students should not change the essential character of the case so that the analysis is affected. To ensure that legal compliance with confidentiality, students should check with their field instructor to make sure that they have disguised case information adequately.

The following are suggestions for disguising client information:

- Disguise ages of all individuals discussed, though keep within the same developmental stage or subphase.
- Disguise all names and clearly indicate in the paper that names have been changed.
- Give no exact dates, including birthdates, referral dates, marriage dates, divorce dates.
- Give no specific places, including place of employment, birthplace, neighborhood, etc. Describe and disguise in general terms (e.g., client grew up on the west coast in a mid-size city, in a poor neighborhood).
- Disguise exact occupations, describe in a general way (e.g., works in the helping profession, works in a blue collar job, etc.).
- Disguise all numbers (e.g., exact years of education, exact years of marriage, etc.).
- Consider other aspects of the case that you can change without compromising the integrity of the case analysis:
  - Could you change or not state the specific drug to which an individual is addicted?
  - Could you change the exact nature of a physical problem?
For those of you who grew up in the digital age and are familiar with the positives and pitfalls of social media, this information may be redundant. However, we hope these guidelines serve as a helpful reminder to all of us, whether we consider ourselves social media experts or novices. When using social media as a means of communication and interaction inside and outside the classroom, there is potential for misinterpretation of relationships and posted information; therefore, we recommend students consider these guidelines.

General Social Media Guidelines

Students' online and digital communications and postings should comply with ethical standards of the social work profession and SDSU School of Social Work guidelines. Students should recognize that digital and Internet-based social networks and communications are not necessarily private and may cause boundary confusion and inappropriate dual relationships. Social work students who choose to participate in online and other digital forums should assume that anything posted, linked to, commented on, uploaded, or subscribed to might be accessed and archived, posing potential harm to clients, professional colleagues, professional reputations, and careers.

Social work students who use online and digital tools (such as Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, Instagram, email, Blackboard, text messages, and blogs) should be aware of how their communications, messages, and postings may be perceived by clients, colleagues, SDSU faculty and administrators, and members of the general public. Social work students should take steps to prevent any online or digital communications or postings that are unethical for a professional social worker or social work student.

Students should not post any unethical information or photos. Students should carefully consider the potential implications of posting personal information online or through other digital means. Students should take steps to prevent client access to their online social networks and maintain clear boundaries when their professional duties include communicating with clients using email or mobile phone technology.

Students should take steps to prevent any unauthorized or otherwise unethical disclosure of confidential information about clients or other parties when using online websites or other digital technology. Further, students should ensure that any comments about professional colleagues, field placement agencies, or members of the School of Social Work community that they post online or through the use of other digital technology adhere to standards in the NASW Code of Ethics and SDSU policies.
Expectations for Students

1. Realize that social media puts anyone on the world stage.
   Do not post anything that you would not want your employer or family to see and do not write anything that you would not say to someone face-to-face. Managing your privacy settings, adjusting your privacy settings to require approval before posting, and remembering to log off any social media accounts are some steps that can be taken to protect your privacy.

2. Be aware of liability and your reputation.
   You are responsible for the content you publish, using any form of user-generated content such as blogs, discussion forms, posts, chats, audio files. Many employers are conducting web searches on job candidates before extending any offers. Be aware that what you publish can remain public for a long time, and anything inappropriate could come back to haunt you!

3. Respect your audience.
   Use respect as a guiding principle when interacting with others through social media. Treat others the way you expect to be treated. If you feel upset or angry about a subject, postpone commenting until you feel calm and rational enough to do so. Do not use slurs, personal insults, or obscenities. Social media should not be used to attack or insult others.

4. Protect your own and the SDSU School of Social Work’s good name.
   Identify yourself and your role at SDSU's School of Social work when appropriate, especially during times you are working for and referencing the SDSU School of Social Work. Even in your personal social media sites, be aware that you may be known as a member of the SDSU School of Social Work. For that reason, when referencing SDSU, it is important to clearly state that your personal opinions are in no way attributable to our School. Students should exercise caution, sound judgment, and common sense when using social media.

5. Protect your privacy as well as the privacy of others.
   Do not share passwords, personal, confidential or proprietary information about employees, students, faculty, staff, or college partners. Releasing this information can violate state and/ or national laws (e.g., HIPAA, FERPA) and could cause you to be liable for damages. Once something is publicly shared, it can never again be private.

6. Be truthful while being positive.
   Any comments made should add value to the conversation. Honesty or dishonesty may be quickly noticed in a social media environment. Make sure to separate and differentiate your personal identity from your college identity.

7. Avoid or report inappropriate material.
   Students may find themselves in online conversations or on websites that contain inappropriate material or malicious material regarding the SDSU School of Social Work. Your best course of action is to report your concerns to someone in authority at the School.
8. No electronic stalking or bullying.
   Using the Internet or other electronic means to bully, stalk, or harass an individual is not tolerated at the SDSU School of Social Work. Examples of this type of stalking include making false accusations against another individual, monitoring someone’s activities, making threats, stealing someone’s identity, the solicitation of sex or gathering information in order to harass.

9. Do not post inappropriate images.
   Do not share sexually explicit photos or videos of yourself or others. Keep in mind that once such images are made public by sharing them with even one other person, you can never get them back. Images may be copied, re-posted and shared in a variety of ways. Sharing sexually explicit material may result in serious legal consequences.

10. Consequences for inappropriate use.
    Violating the expectations outlined in this document while using social media, may result in disciplinary action such as a Student Incident Report (please refer to detailed student situation report procedures and policies in MSW Student Handbook p. 38 and BASW student Handbook p.17). Students should also be mindful of not violating federal, state, or local laws.

Right of SDSU School of Social Work to Administer its Social Media Content

Except where precluded by law, the School of Social Work may routinely monitor School-related social media and online sites such as the School’s website, Facebook page and Twitter account, as well as other websites with content that references the SDSU School of Social Work. Although individual student's social media communication is not routinely monitored, the School of Social Work expects that communication concerning its members will be professional, courteous and socially appropriate for an institution of higher education.
